RUSSIAN TACTICS

For the next few days every eye will be centered on the German movement against the Russians. There is a difference of opinion as to whether the Russians will make a stand at Warsaw, or simply allow the Germans to take possession. From the start of operations, the Russians have kept the Kaiser and his staff guessing. In face of tremendous difficulties in transportation, Grand Duke Nicholas has kept his line intact, and has repeatedly inflicted very heavy losses on the enemy. It is clear that, if an attempt to hold Warsaw will endanger the solidity of the Russian line, the Russians will quietly withdraw as they did from Lemberg.

The farther the German forces are drawn away from home, the harder will it be for them to bring along reinforcements and munitions, and the more liable are they to be cut off unexpectedly. It is much more important that the Russian line should remain intact than that Warsaw should be held. The whole business is a colossal game of chess which is clearly understood only by the players, but we may rest assured that the Russians are very far from being beaten. The apparent territorial advantage gained by the Germans may be their own undoing. The Allies on both fronts are working in conjunction, and it is more than likely that when the enemy has spread far enough afield in Russian Poland, interesting developments will take place on the western front, and in the Dardanelles.

ORGANIZATION

Why are not the factories of Canada more fully organized to manufacture munitions of war?

Ten months passed before the factories of the United Kingdom were organized. While it is true that a great many war orders have been placed in the factories of Canada they are still far from utilizing their entire capacity for making all sorts of articles needed by the Allies.

There is little use dwelling on the mistakes of the past except in so far as they spur us on to improve the present and future.

The question is, are you awake now?

Since the war started the principal concern of Canadian manufacturers was not whether they could make war munitions but whether they could get the orders. Many, after trying in vain to secure orders, gave up in disgust. Many are still seeking orders without success.

If the Allies are short of munitions as they claim, no factory in Canada that can make them should be idle. Instead of manufacturers chasing war orders, war orders should be chasing manufacturers.—Industrial Canada.

EMINENT SCIENTISTS ON INVENTIONS BOARD

London, July 21.—A number of eminent scientists and inventors have been appointed to assist Admiral Lord Fisher, who was recently selected as chairman of the invention board, the duties of which will be to co-ordinate and encourage scientific work in relation to the requirements of the navy.

The board will consist of a central committee and a number of consultants who will advise the main committee on questions referred to them. The central committee will be composed of Admiral Fisher, Sir Joseph Thompson Cavendish, professor of experimental physics at Cambridge University; Sir Charles A. Parsons, an expert on turbines, and Geo. T. Beilby, chairman of the Royal Technical College at Glasgow.

"HEARTS ADRIFT" AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

"Hearts Adrift," a four-reel Famous Player feature, at the Westholme theatre, is one of the most beautiful films ever screened. Mary Pickford, as a shipwrecked Spanish maiden on an uninhabited island in the South Seas, is just as dainty as this talented little actress can be. The various beach scenes with huge breakers dashing in over the reefs are magnificent.

An Essanay comedy entitled "This is the Life" describes the adventures of a worthy farmer and his son in New York, with the old lady bringing the jolification to a sudden close. "Mother and Wife," a one-act drama, depicts a duel between a young wife and her mother-in-law, with a "kiss and be friends" conclusion.

Coughing scatters germs — Stop it

Coughing increases the irritation of the already inflamed mucous membranes and is moreover apt to carry disease to others.

Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil promptly stops coughing, and soon, thanks to its tonic properties, effects a permanent cure.

The wonderful popularity of Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil is specially due to its great value as a permanent lung and bronchial healer.

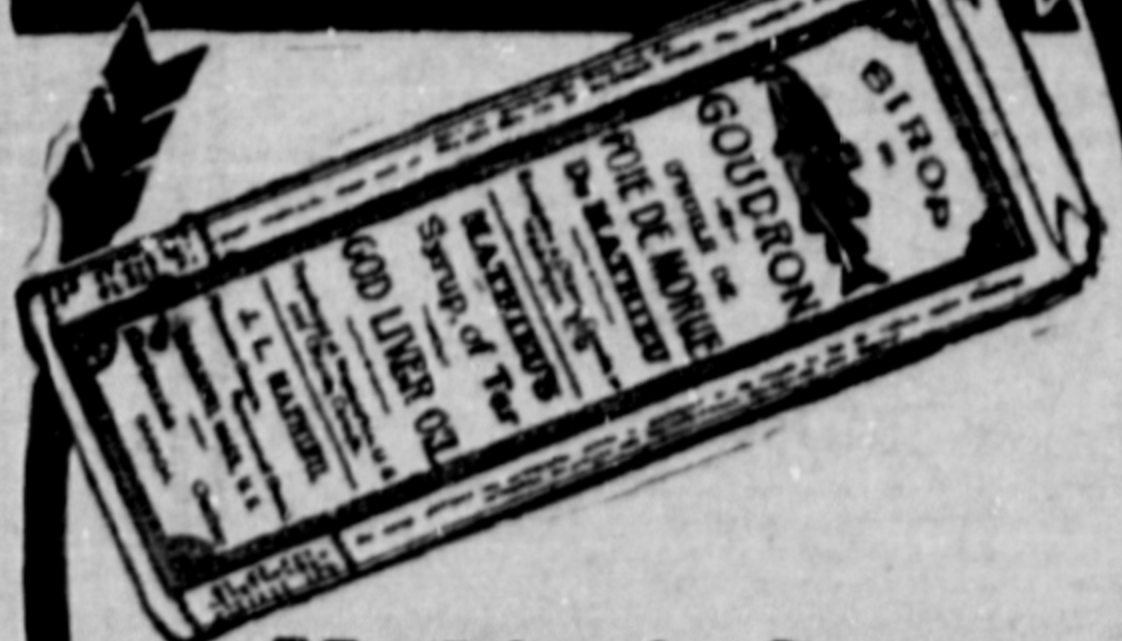

Sold everywhere, 35c large bottles.

AMERICAN CITIZEN IS SHOT BY AUSTRIANS

London, July 21.—Franz Berka, a laborer, who claimed American citizenship, was shot for high treason at Mafersich-Ostrau, in Austrian Silesia, June 14, according to the Daily Chronicle, which says it gets its information from a copy of the official journal of the province of Silesia.

Berka, who was 46 years old, says the Daily Chronicle, was tried before the military court, charged with using two traitorous expressions in an inn at Gross Helendorf. The expressions were alleged to be calculated to disturb the peace of the neighborhood. The court sentenced the man to be hanged, but the sentence was changed to shooting and was carried out two hours after its pronouncement.
