ITALIAN FORCES CAPTURE STRONG AUSTRIAN POSITION

5,000 PRISONERS, GUNS AND MUNITIONS TAKEN—A FIERCE BATTLE FOR CARSO PLATEAU—DARDANELLES ADVANCE CONTINUES—VIOLENT FIGHTING AT SOUCHEZ

(Special to The Daily News.)

Rome, July 28.—Italian forces have completed the conquest of the Monte Dei position, taking five machine guns, two cannon, trench mortars, ammunition and war materials, and 3,200 prisoners. A fierce battle continues for the crest of the Carso plateau.

The Dardanelles.

London, July 28.—At the Dardanelles a steady advance continues, several hundred yards being gained. A Turkish aviation camp has been burned.

Attacks Repulsed.

There has been violent fighting in the Arras district north of Souchez. All attacks by the enemy were successfully repulsed by the French.

Trawlers Sunk.

The British trawlers Iena and Salacia have been torpedoed. The crews were landed at Lowestoft.

The gasoline engine was the only part saved from the Northern, which was wrecked recently near Tow Hill, in the Queen Charlotte Islands.

THE EXPLOITS OF THE GERMAN SUBMARINE U-51. DESPATCHES say that the U-51 has been sunk in the Black Sea by Russian warships. The map gives the route taken in the phenomenal voyage of the submarine to the Dardanelles, where it sunk two British warships. Captain Hersing, commander of the vessel, is Germany's hero. It is not known if the crew was lost or not.

GERMAN LOSSES AGAINST RUSSIANS NUMBER 500,000

RUSSIAN LINE STILL UNBROKEN—VON HINDENBURG HELD ON NAREW RIVER—REICHSTAG MEETING POSTPONED FOR TEN DAYS—RUSSIA IS CALLING OUT MORE TROOPS

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, July 28.—Though the Germans hold the line from the Gulf of Riga around Warsaw to Galicia, it is estimated that they have lost 500,000 in the effort. The Russian line is still unbroken and they are holding Von Hindenburg on the Narew river. After four days fighting the attempt to seize the Lublin-Chelm railway continues.

The next plenary session of the Reichstag has been postponed for ten days until August 19. The delay is taken to signify that unexpected difficulties have arisen in the Warsaw campaign.

Russian Mobilization.

Petrograd, July 28.—An Imperial ukase calls to the colors all men born in 1896. It is reported that a general mobilization throughout Siberia is about to be ordered.

Press Attacks.

London, July 28.—The German government today notified the Berlin papers to refrain from attacks on the American government on the submarine notes.

BYLAWS ENDORSED BY BOARD OF TRADE

The council of the Board of Trade met yesterday afternoon to consider a letter from the mayor asking for the endorsement by the board of the two money bylaws, which are to be voted upon on July 30. These are for the replanking of city streets and the construction of a plank roadway to Seal Cove.

The question was asked whether the work of replanking could be proceeded with, whether the bylaw passed or not.

Ald. Dybbahn, who was present, said it would. He explained that if the bylaw passed the cost of the work would be extended over four years, and if it did not pass, the work would have to be done, as it was essential, and the cost paid from general fund this year.

The board decided to endorse the two bylaws.

Hazelton Mining Prospects

Contributed by F. S. Wright, Secretary of the Northern British Columbia Agricultural Association

What has the Interior to offer Prince Rupert, the mining man and prospector? This is the answer of Hazelton: Hazelton, the oldest community of Northern B. C.—in existence before Rupert or railways were ever thought of—Hazelton, a district hardly prospected and certainly not developed as far as mineral is concerned.

While the G. T. P. was being led to completion, mining as well as other industries in this district suffered. Money had too many other attractions. Labor had too easy a field with surer money. Townsite land speculation and railway contracts all presented better chances for quick returns, and thus mining suffered accordingly.

True there were a few who, ignoring this temporary rush and fever of speculation, pinned their faith on the future of Hazelton district as a mining field, and here and now their confidence is daily being justified. Gone is the railway contractor, the blanket man and all the various types that follow the steel as it is laid. The casual observer passing through sees quiet towns and absence of rush and remarks on the change. He forgets that railway construction spells loose and easy money, forgets that the land speculator, the townsite promoters are gamblers only, and that production is the only sure permanency for any district. He shrugs his shoulders and passes on.

The hardest thing in the world is to make the public believe in a mining field until it is too late. Until the wise ones have slipped in and grabbed the plums. Then, in comes the public. Reason is cast aside, anything that looks like a prospect commands a figure and the boom is on. Forgotten are the times when John Brown the prospector, offered that half interest for a mere song, and ground-floor locations could be obtained for a mere song.

This public are not strangers either, they know or think they know the district, but their perspective is too close, and it takes the stranger to see the country's possibilities.

Hazelton: Four years ago, ore bunkers, ore shipping and other mining activity was the dream of a few, every one else was too busy. Mining was too speculative even in the days when everything was speculation, but today Hazelton district is making regular shipments of ore to the smelter, has developed mines, a payroll—on one property alone over 100 men are employed. Already the local farmer is beginning to find a market for his produce at the mines, and the Hazelton district has arrived. It has become a recognized camp.

Is the country prospected? In places, but ask anyone who has ever attempted prospecting how long it takes to cover country. Every creek, gully, mountainside, presents its possibilities. In some few places a walk over discovers what the prospector is looking for but seldom does this happen. Nature does not yield up her secrets so readily. It requires intimate knowledge and experience to get the results and few there are in the district who have the requisite knowledge and experience to make sure that they do not miss what they seek. The country requires the services and the experience of the old prospector of Nevada, Montana, Cobalt, Mexico and other camps. To these the

PRINCE GEORGE WINS SECOND GAME

Prince George won the second of the series of three ball games by 6 to 2. Babe Fortin pitched for the local boys and the visitors scored freely off him in the first three innings, but were shut out for the rest of the game.

Prince Rupert did not score until the eighth, when Fortin hit safely to left field, allowing Murphy to reach home from first, while he made the third bag. The crowd cheered lustily. Embleton then hit what should have been an easy fly to right, but the ball was fumbled and Fortin scored the second run.

Tonight's game for the rubber should be a great tussle. Hunt will pitch for Rupert, and the local boys will make a big effort to win out.

country is a new field of opportunity and they are needed badly to aid in the exploitation of the mining field at Prince Rupert's door.

Hazelton district is coming into its own. It has already four developed mines and innumerable prospects, each presenting a greater or lesser chance for a developed mine and outside money and men are busy, not in the towns, but in the hills. Go and see for yourselves, but be prepared to take some time and trouble. You cannot see anything of the mineral development from a Pullman car window, or form a right conclusion from stove-pipe prospectors' samples. Get out into the hills, visit the properties under development and see what is going on, first hand. It spells a healthy holiday, awakened confidence in your district and you must arrive at the conclusion that Prince Rupert, as a mining centre, has a future.

A. E. JESSUP'S WIDOW LEAVING FOR TRAIL

Mrs. A. E. Jessup, with her little son, arrived from Massett on the Camosun en route for Trail, where they will reside. Mr. Jessup was one of the brave men from the Queen Charlotte Islands who heard their country's call and sacrificed all in the struggle.

It is claimed that Masset Inlet, where the family resided, furnished more men for the first contingent, according to its population, than any other part of the Dominion. Nearly all of that brave band of thirty men have been listed as killed, wounded or missing.
