JAPANESE AMBASSADOR SAYS JAPAN WILL ASTONISH THE WORLD — SERBIA WILLING TO GRANT CONCESSIONS TO BULGARIA—ADOLPHE PEGOUD IS DEAD IN PARIS

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, Sept. 1.—It is believed that Japan will assist in the forcing of the Dardanelles. This belief is the result of a statement by Baron Hayashi, Japanese ambassador to Paris, in the Petit Parisien. He says, "Japan has not ceased to collaborate with her allies. The world will be astonished when it learns what we have done and what we will do. I can say no more, as we must not allow the enemy to profit by any information as to the movement of our troops."

Serbia Willing.

The Serbian government has informed Greece that it will comply with the requests of the Allies in regard to the concessions to Bulgaria.

BILLY KIRK HAS BECOME BOMB-THROWER

Constable Adams has had another letter from Billy Kirk. Billy reports that things are rather quiet in his vicinity just at present. He is now a member of a hand-grenade company, and ventures the opinion that the Germans will never under any circumstances get through the Allies' lines on the western front. Billy is looking around for souvenirs to send to his friends in Prince Rupert, and purposes sending along some "nose caps" from German shells. He would also like to send a German helmet, but is not allowed to pick one up, as the Germans often conceal shells in them. His only chance will be to "stick" a Hun and capture his headgear. Constable Adams has also received a postcard showing a French 75 centimetre gun, sewn in silk by a French girl.

The salmon pack for the month amounted to 12,999,700 pounds of fish, representing something like three-quarters of a million dollars. Adding cod and other smaller fish, the total quantity handled at Prince Rupert in August amounted to 15,124,500 lbs.

RETRIBUTION

At the Manitoba election about a year ago, Liberal workers were arrested and thrown into jail, and kept there until the election was over, when they were released without a charge being made against them. Today, the engineers of that election, with one exception, find themselves at the bar of the police court on charges of fraud. In their case retribution has followed swiftly. In British Columbia, the day of retribution is coming just as surely. Corrupt boss rule carries with it its own reward.

JACK ENSCH SAYS BOYS ARE FIT AND WELL

G. R. Naden had a letter from Jack Ensich last night, in which he states that the boys of the first contingent, who are still at the front, are all fit and well. Enclosed with the letter were some poppies which had been plucked from the "no-man's" land between the trenches.

Mr. Ensich's father was German and his mother Belgian. When war was declared, and Jack learned that the Huns were marching through Belgium, he made a bee-line from the mountains, where he was prospecting, to the coast, where he joined the first contingent which left from Prince Rupert.

FRTIZI SCHEFF AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

At the Westholme tonight and tomorrow, the inimitable Fritzi Scheff appears in a five-act comedy drama entitled "Pretty Mrs. Smith." Mrs. Smith has been married three times, on each occasion to a Mr. Smith. No. 1 was a missionary, No. 2 was a poet, while No. 3 was a man after Mrs. Smith's own heart. All three meet at a summer resort and delightfully funny situations ensue. The photography of the piece is perfect, and Fritzi is just Fritzi at her best.

A one-act comedy entitled "A Substitute for Pants" concludes a most enjoyable program.
