COMMUNITY MONEY

In an editorial dealing with relief work for the unemployed, the Victoria Colonist says "The government has no source of income except what it gets from the community, and if it pays out money for any purpose it is community money that is paid out. This is a good thing to remember in connection with other things besides the relief of the unemployed."

The Colonist might have enlarged upon this point showing that there is about $15,000,000 of community money which the government shows no sign of attempting to collect from the speculator; money which the community stands greatly in need of just at present. The people of British Columbia also realize that it was community money, though not in the hands of the government, which was swallowed up by the Dominion Trust Company. The $45,000 which Joe Matson failed to account for in the Songhees Reserve deal was community money, and so was the $80,000,000 guaranteed to the Canadian Northern Railway. Some day soon there is going to be a searching enquiry into the community money question, and people will then more fully realize the truth of the Colonist's statement that it is connected with other things than the relief of unemployment.

WINTER SCHEDULE

At a time when every business organization in the country is cutting down expenses to the irreducible minimum, it is gratifying to learn that the Grand Trunk Pacific is prepared to continue its summer schedule of three boats and three trains each way per week throughout the winter. It will mean a big outlay on the part of the company, and is more than even optimistic citizens looked for.

Mr. Chamberlin made it very plain that financial conditions put any idea of further terminal development entirely out of the question in the meantime. It must be apparent that the officials of the company are just as anxious for the rapid development of traffic as the people of Prince Rupert can be. The company is bound to develop the railroad, and the railroad development is naturally bound to increase the importance of the terminal.

PATRIOTIC FUND

We have now entered upon the second year of the war and the end seems as far off as ever. No one imagined, a year ago, that by September of 1915 Canada would have sent across the Atlantic nearly one hundred thousand men, with as many more to follow if necessary. This magnificent enlistment, while primarily due to the loyalty of our people, has been, in a large measure, made possible by the Canadian Patriotic Fund.

This greatest of all the national benefactions is now assisting twenty thousand families of men who have enlisted for overseas service. These men have gone forward with the full assurance that the people of Canada will see to it that during their absence, their wives, widowed mothers and little children shall be maintained in comfort. We hear that the drain upon the Fund is assuming large proportions, that to meet the needs of July and August $700,000 was expended, that the reserves are being materially decreased and that the national executive committee now finds it necessary to make a further appeal to the Canadian public.

There are many funds, many of them worthy, but of them all the Patriotic Fund is the one we cannot allow to fail. It is the duty of the government to arm, equip and maintain the troops. Not a dollar do the Federal authorities give to the Patriotic Fund. This work depends solely on the patriotism and generosity of our own people. Thousands of brave men are fighting our battles, believing that we meant what we said when we told them as they went forward: "Go and we will care for the wife and kiddies." It would be to our everlasting disgrace if our pledge were broken.

The national organization, with headquarters at Ottawa and branches or affiliated associations in every part of the Dominion, is worthy of our generous support in the tremendous and ever-growing task that it has undertaken.
