THRILLS AND LAUGHTER AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

The Westholme presents a program of thrills and laughter for tonight and tomorrow. "In the Hands of the Jury" is a two-reel drama which will hold the interest of the audience from start to finish. Dr. Burton, a specialist, has a clever young partner who has invented a deadly poison which is fatal even by outward application. The specialist is examining a bottle of the poison when a speculator, called Murdock who has gone broke, comes along to borrow money. A quarrel ensues, in which the bottle of poison breaks, the touch of the liquid killing Dr. Burton. The young doctor, who is in love with Burton's daughter, is arrested and Murdock is one of the jury at the trial, and is the only member of the jury to find the young man guilty.

Miss Burton, who saw Murdock leave the house on the night of the murder, accuses the speculator with committing the deed; he is ultimately convicted and all ends happily for the young couple. It is a story of surpassing interest.

The program includes "The Ring of Death," the fourth episode of "The Road O' Strife," "What's Ours," a stirring drama, and, last, but not least, Charlie Chaplin in a great two-reel feature.

Monday brings along "The Diamond from the Sky," the $800,000 serial.

The Case of A.B. Smith, Retailer.

A. B. SMITH has a dry goods store in a certain Canadian city.

He does a good business, but wants to do more. He believes that Advertising in his local newspaper is the way to get more business. So he advertises—every now and then. This is where our friend Smith is wrong—in advertising every now and then. He should advertise regularly—as frequently as his local newspaper is published.

Smith says he wants to advertise regularly, but he can't always find the time to prepare advertisements, which is true, for he is his own buyer, salesman, director of store service, credit man and half-a-dozen other things.

What Smith should do is this: If he is located in one of the smaller cities, in which there are no advertising agencies giving a local copy service, and he has no one among his own staff qualified by instinct or experience to write the daily announcements, he should go to the publisher of the newspaper in which he means to advertise, requesting his help. In nine cases out of ten, the publisher, through his advertising manager, will be only too glad to give Smith the assistance desired.

If Smith is located in one of the larger cities he should secure the services of a recognized advertising agency which will take over the work of preparing his advertisements.

In this way Smith can be sure of having his advertisements prepared regularly and intelligently, with no more trouble to him than the supplying of the information required by the writer of the advertisements.

So Smith can do more business, and more business means a larger income for himself, to say nothing of other gains that go hand in hand with the doing of bigger business.

This man Smith---do you know him?
Are YOU Smith?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
