

EXHIBITION —OF— LADIES' SUITS

Thirty sample suits—no two alike—no duplicates will be sold—have just arrived from the manufacturers and some of them are now displayed in our main window.

We have marked these all at extremely low figures in order to move them quickly as we must return all unsold suits within a week.

From the same makers we have sample cloths and order measurement forms and can order suits to your measure. None of these samples are of the same cloth as the sample suits we are now showing and we guarantee that any suit sold will not be duplicated in town.

Sizes 32 to 40.

You are cordially invited to come in and look them over.

Mrs. John Conway, of Stewart, is in town and will stay over for the fair.

Mrs. W. J. Jefferson, of Vancouver, is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. E. Oakley.

A. B. SMITH has a dry goods store in a certain Canadian city. He does a good business, but wants to do more.

He believes that Advertising in his local newspaper is the way to get more business. So he advertises—every now and then.

This is where our friend Smith is wrong—in advertising every now and then. He should advertise regularly—as frequently as his local newspaper is published.

Smith says he wants to advertise regularly, but he can't always find the time to prepare advertisements, which is true, for he is his own buyer, sales-manager, director of store service, credit man and half-a-dozen other things.

What Smith should do is this: If he is located in one of the smaller cities, in which there are no advertising agencies giving a local copy service, and he has no one among his own staff qualified by instinct or experience to write the daily announcements, he should go to the publisher of the newspaper in which he means to advertise, requesting his help. In nine cases out of ten, the publisher, through his advertising manager, will be only too glad to give Smith the assistance desired.

If Smith is located in one of the larger cities he should secure the services of a recognized advertising agency which will take over the work of preparing his advertisements.

In this way Smith can be sure of having his advertisements prepared regularly and intelligently, with no more trouble to him than the supplying of the information required by the writer of the advertisements.

So Smith can do more business, and more business means a larger income for himself, to say nothing of other gains that go hand in hand with the doing of bigger business.

This man Smith---do you know him?
Are YOU Smith?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
