

WILL WE EVER WALK ON AIR?

Train Of Thought Inspired By a Letter About "Fruit-a-tives"

MR. D. McLEAN

Orillia, Ont., Nov. 28th, 1914.

"For over two years, I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. I tried several medicines, but got no results and my Headaches became more severe. One day I saw your sign which read 'Fruit-a-tives' make you feel like walking on air. This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time, I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. Now I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. I cannot say too much for 'Fruit-a-tives', and recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends".

DAN McLEAN.

PREMIER BORDEN'S FAILURE TO PROVIDE A CANADIAN NAVY

Britain is at war, Canada is at war. If Great Britain, to which we are subject, is at war with any nation, Canada becomes liable to invasion, so Canada is at war." During the debate which was a long one, Leader Borden showed signs of a change of heart. He had a sort of Platonic affection for the abstract idea, but the nearer the navy came to being a fact the less he seemed to like it. So far from "rising superior to party motives," he didn't last beyond the first reading. When the fight on the second reading came on it was apparent that his opinions had undergone a chill. His enthusiasm for our native industries was not as great as it was ten months before. He was doubtful whether the ships could be built in Canada. In fact doubt covered him all over like a cloak. Which was only natural because the doubts were necessary to influence the bye-election in Drummond and Arthobaska and the general election in 1914. The Laurier navy was a fine chance to tell Quebec that Laurier was too British while telling Ontario that he was too French.

However and notwithstanding, the Naval Service Act became law, the Niobe and Rainbow were purchased as a starter, and when the Laurier government went out of office there were tenders on the table for the construction of the remainder of the Canadian navy, which tenders the incoming powers threw in the waste basket. They also proceeded to dish the Laurier Navy as she swam at that moment, first placing the Niobe on political picnic service and then taking the machinery out of her and putting it in a shed.

After that they produced their Dreadought policy—not because it was the best policy, but because they wanted something different, something of their own, something showy and spectacular—that would offset the presence of notorious Nationalists like Pelletier, Nantel and Blondin in Premier Borden's cabinet. For that policy and the great fight it caused space lacks here, but it is sufficient to say that it was a policy of putting all the eggs in one basket, said basket being the North Sea. At any rate it would have left Canada quite naked, even more naked than she was with the Niobe out of commission and the Rainbow, so to speak, on half rations.

How naked Canada felt when hell broke loose in Europe may be judged from what Sir Richard McBride did off his own bat. He purchased a $750,000 pair of submarines for $1,150,000 and sent the bill to Ottawa by the next mail. That's how Sir Richard felt about it. It's an ill wind that blows nobody good.—H. F. G.

The Housekeeper is Right

Sometimes a housekeeper requires a quick leavening agent, and finds she has no baking powder.

What does she do?

She raises her biscuit by a mixture of cream of tartar and soda, or soda and sour milk. She may not get the proportions quite right, but she knows her food is safe. But does she ever use a mixture of alum and soda? Was there ever a housekeeper who bought alum and soda to make a home made baking powder? Intuitively she feels it would be unsafe.

Then why use baking powder made from alum or the same mixture that the housekeeper would not dare to mix and use in her food?

Alum is alum, whether bought in the drug store or in baking powder.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

is made from pure cream of tartar and contains no alum, lime or phosphate. There is absolute safety in its use.
