THANKSGIVING BANQUET

The Thanksgiving banquet in the Methodist Church last night was the usual big success, the ladies providing a sumptuous repast, while the speakers of the evening delivered inspiring little speeches. As in past years, a delightful musical program was rendered, in which Mrs. Millar and Messrs. Clapperton, Jones, Davey and Davis excelled themselves. Principal Brady delivered two most enjoyable readings and also gave a splendid address on the spirit of unionism. Speeches were made by Revs. W. W. Wright H. R. Grant and G. A. Rix, each speaker dwelling on the benefits of united effort on the part of the churches. God Save the King brought a memorable banquet to a close.

Insurance and Steamship Agency,

Prince Rupert, B. C.

A. B. SMITH has a dry goods store in a certain Canadian city.

He does a good business, but wants to do more. He believes that Advertising in his local newspaper is the way to get more business. So he advertises—every now and then.

This is where our friend Smith is wrong—in advertising every now and then. He should advertise regularly—as frequently as his local newspaper is published.

Smith says he wants to advertise regularly, but he can't always find the time to prepare advertisements, which is true, for he is his own buyer, sales-manager, director of store service, credit man and half-a-dozen other things.

What Smith should do is this: If he is located in one of the smaller cities, in which there are no advertising agencies giving a local copy service, and he has no one among his own staff qualified by instinct or experience to write the daily announcements, he should go to the publisher of the newspaper in which he means to advertise, requesting his help. In nine cases out of ten, the publisher, through his advertising manager, will be only too glad to give Smith the assistance desired.

If Smith is located in one of the larger cities he should secure the services of a recognized advertising agency which will take over the work of preparing his advertisements.

In this way Smith can be sure of having his advertisements prepared regularly and intelligently, with no more trouble to him than the supplying of the information required by the writer of the advertisements.

So Smith can do more business, and more business means a larger income for himself, to say nothing of other gains that go hand in hand with the doing of bigger business.

This man Smith—do you know him?
Are YOU Smith?

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
