London, Oct. 28.—The Bulgarians have been repulsed by the Allied forces in the Tenk Valley, after two days of desperate fighting. One Bulgarian regiment is surrounded and must inevitably surrender.

The Germans are now checked in their Balkan drive and repairs to the Nish-Saloniki railroad have been completed. The Allies troop trains are running without interruption. The British forces at Saloniki are not very strong in numbers.

Cruiser Aground.

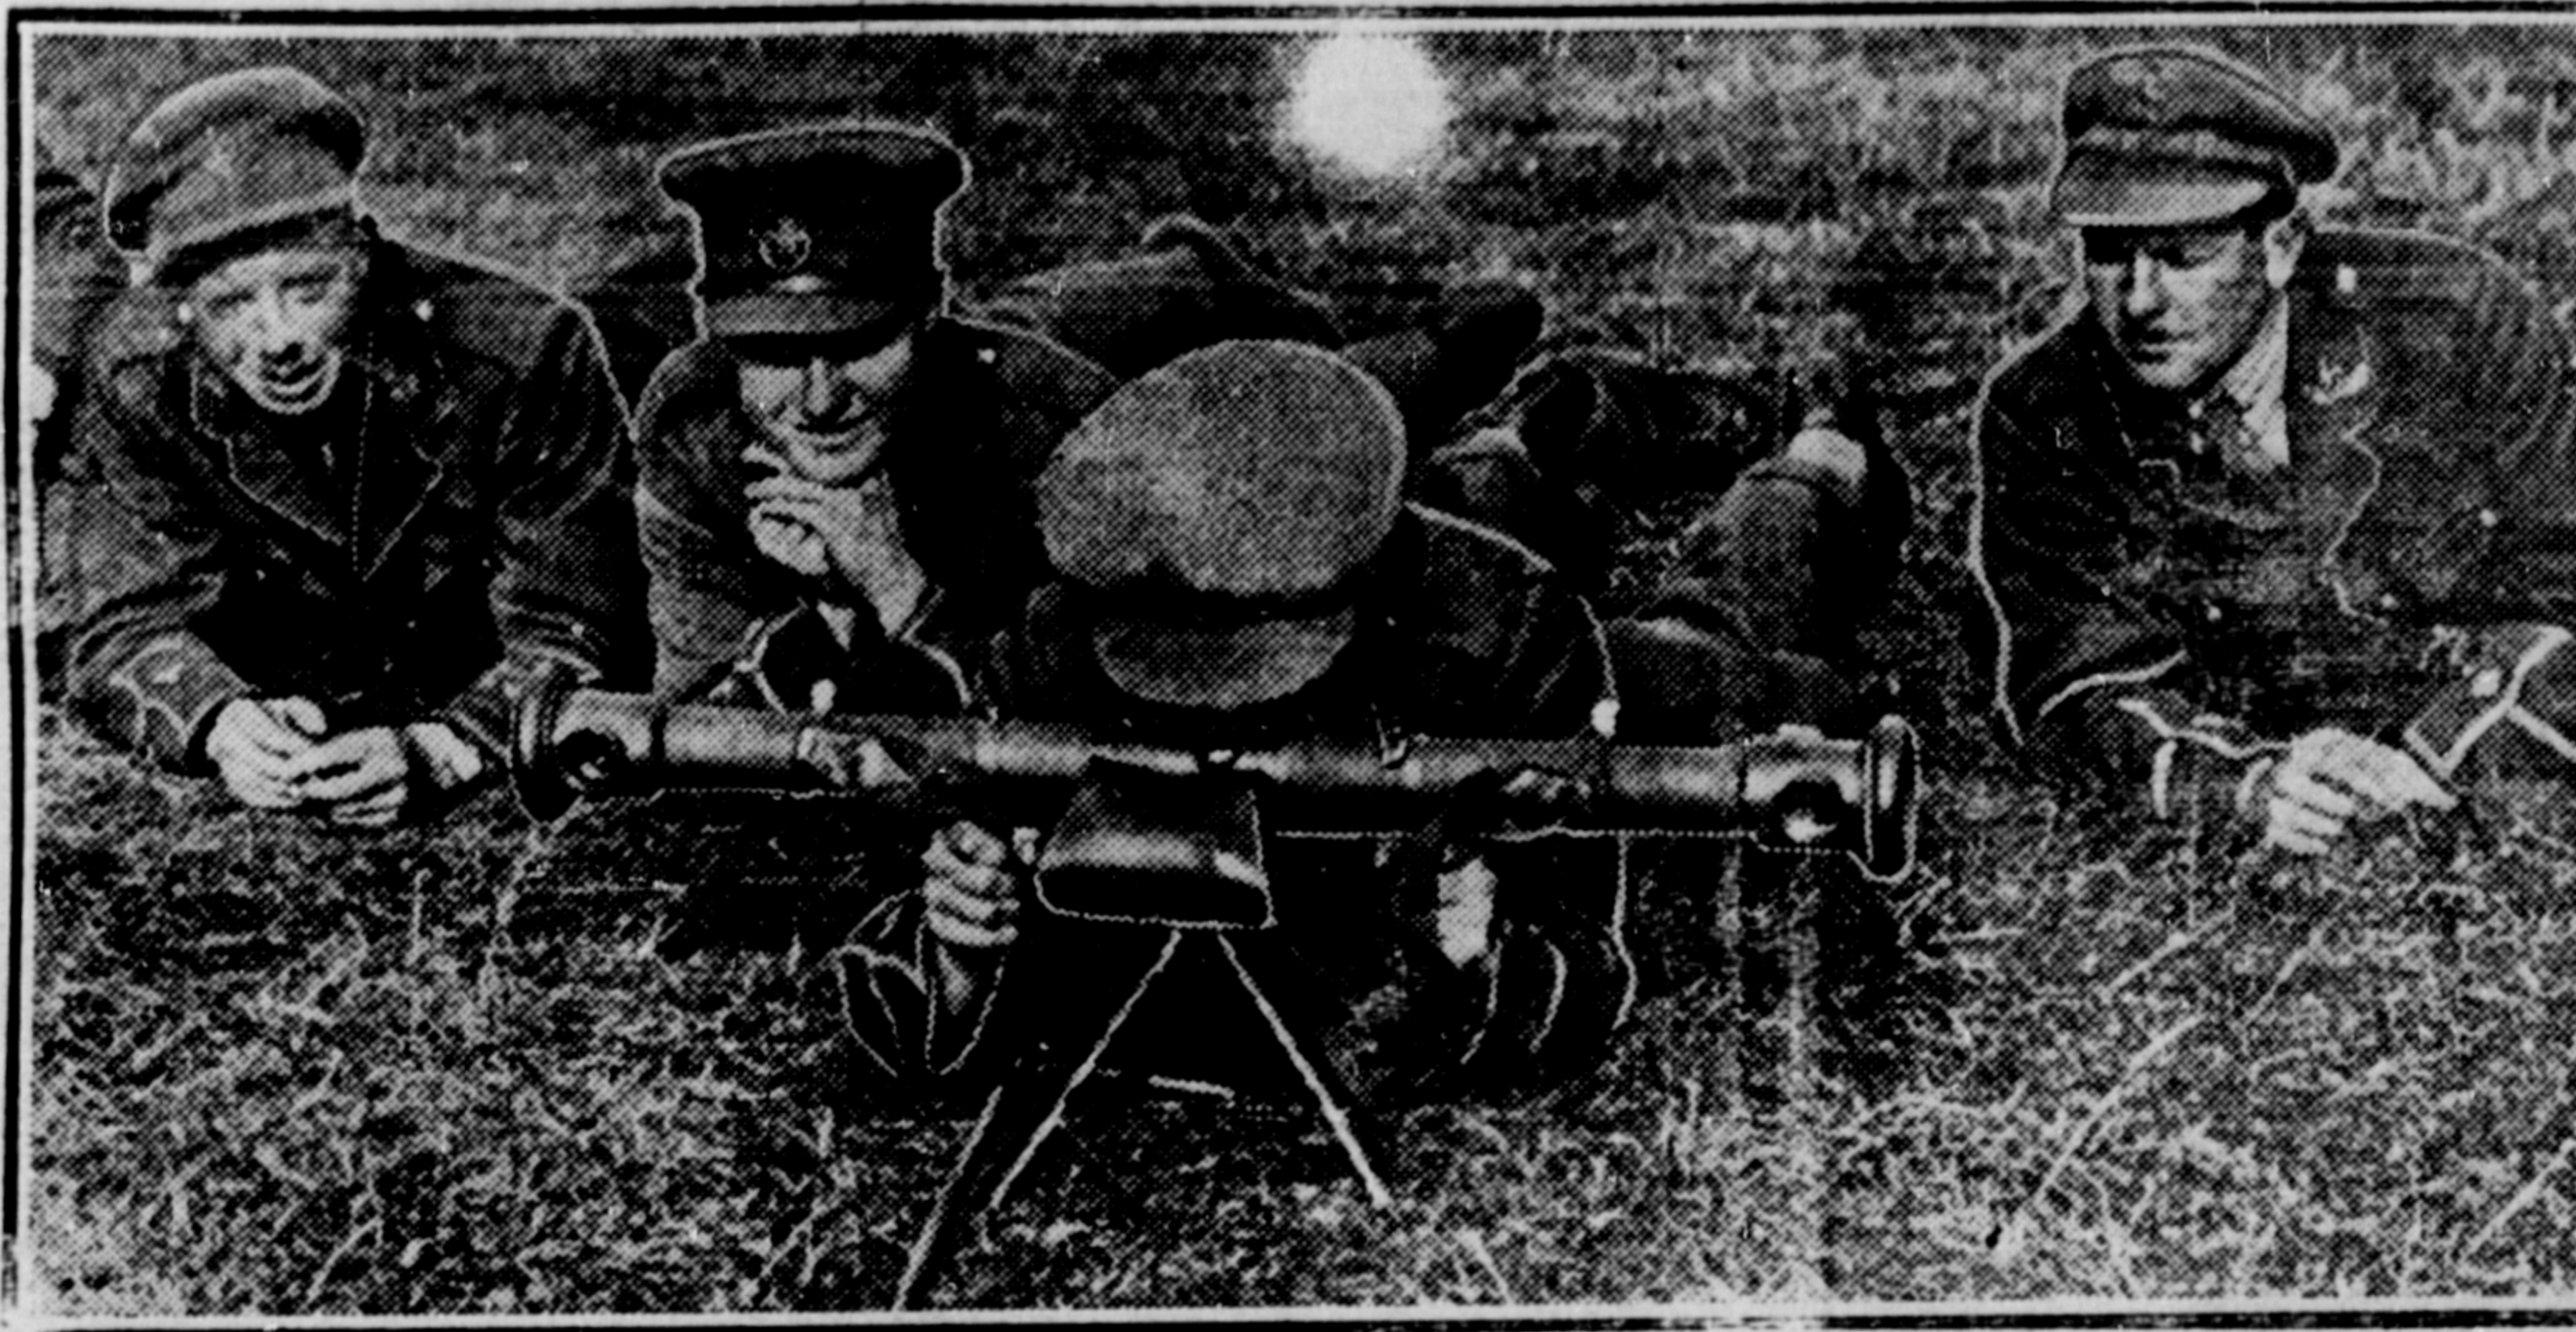

The British cruiser Argyle is aground off the coast of Scotland and may become a total wreck.

Western Front.

The Germans are breaking up the entrenchments and roads between Arras and Lille with powerful explosives.

Italian Front.

The capture of Gorizia and Riva by the Italians is considered imminent.

HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Australia, Oct. 27.—Rt. Hon. Andrew Fisher, the premier, has accepted the high commissionership for Australia in London, succeeding Sir George Reid. Mr. Fisher has recommended for his successor as premier, William Morris Hughes, attorney-general in the Fisher cabinet.

The new high commissioner was born in Lanarkshire, Scotland, and in his early days worked as a miner. He was a pioneer of the Trades Union movement in Scotland and has done much to further the interests of the worker in Australia.

RED CROSS SALE OF HOME COOKING

Mrs. Frizzell and Mrs. Fred Henning will be the ladies in charge of the Red Cross Sale on Friday, October 29th, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. at Mrs. Frizzell's store, 3rd Ave.

The great work of the Red Cross must be continued till such deeds of infamy as the murder of Nurse Cavell are forcibly terminated, therefore you are all requested to assist at this sale, so that our soldiers at the front and the nurses attending them may be rendered every possible assistance by those at home.

W. J. Alder, a Prince Rupert old timer and property holder, arrived from the south this morning.

WIRE TROUBLE

Owing to wire trouble, our usual war despatches did not get through today. We are indebted to the Hotel Prince Rupert for their service.

SCOTCH WEDDING OF LOCAL INTEREST

W. I. Thams, accountant with the Rorvik Fish Company, has received word of the marriage of his daughter, Maud, to Charles Hill, who is an A. E. on H. M. S. Carnarvon. The ceremony took place in West St. Giles Church, Edinburgh, Scotland, the bride being given away by her brother, Lance-corporal W. Thams, who is now at the front, "somewhere in France."

Mr. Hill took part in the historic fight off the Falkland Islands last spring, the Carnarvon being one of the ships of Admiral Sturdee's squadron, which put the finishing touch to the last of the "Kultur" carriers on the high seas. Old Bill is justly proud of his connection with the two branches of His Majesty's Service.

SPLENDID SHOW AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

"The Unafraid," the four-act Lasky drama at the Westholme, is one of the tit-bits of filmdom. The story is of an American heiress, Delight Warren, who journeys to Montenegro to marry a count. On arrival, she is kidnapped and forced to marry Count Stefan, the brother of her fiancé. In the long run, she discovers that it was the happiest event of her life, but a host of thrilling things happen in the meantime. The scenes of the Montenegrin mountains, with their stately old castles are most beautiful, while the great fight scene when Delight is rescued by her husband and his men, is intensely interesting and wonderfully realistic. Rita Jolivet, as Delight Warren, is the bright particular star of the piece, but each part is splendidly filled.

There is also a pleasing little drama entitled "The Gold Dust and the Squaw," and a screamingly funny comedy, featuring Billy Reeves. It is a splendid show right through.

Halloween supper in Baptist Church Thursday, October 28th, 6 to 8 p. m. Social following Admission 50c.

WAR SUPPLIES GRAFT UNEARTHED AT REGINA

Regina, Oct. 26.—Following is a synopsis of what the Davidson Commission found in Regina at the inquiry last week:

1. That twenty-three carloads of hay, purchased by one Mitchell and charged against the government as having been delivered to the remount commission's depot, were never delivered.

2. That of these, eight cars never existed in fact, and fifteen cars were diverted and resold to other points.

3. That almost criminal carelessness existed in the office of the remount commission depot, making possible forgery of weigh-bills, diversion of feed cars, padding of accounts and dealings generally incapable of explanation.

4. The appointment by J. A. Westman, Conservative candidate for this federal riding, to the responsible position of secretary and bookkeeper to the commission of a man in whom Wm. Grant, the officer commanding the mobilization station, had no confidence.

5. The knowledge possessed by J. A. Westman and Wm. Grant that something was wrong, and yet no attempt made by either of them to take steps to correct any evils that might exist beyond the writing of a letter to the minister of militia.

Corporal Thomas Stewart, of Terrace, figures as wounded in the latest casualty lists. This is the second time Mr. Stewart has been wounded.

KING GEORGE'S APPEAL TO CANADIAN PEOPLE

Ottawa, Oct. 26.—The proclamation of King George calling upon his subjects to put forth their best efforts in support of the war has been promulgated in Canada in a special issue of the Canadian Gazette, issued at noon yesterday. It is believed that the King's appeal will meet with a generous response in all parts of the country.

PREMIER SAVES THE LIFE OF A WOMAN

Moncton, N.B., Oct. 26.—Sir Robert Borden saved the life of a woman who had fallen on the railway track here yesterday afternoon. Sir Robert, who was on his way from his home at Grand Pre, N.S., to Montreal, was standing on the platform when the woman was thrust on the rails by the crowd which congregated at the depot to see him. The woman was rolling under a moving train when the prime minister caught her and placed her in a position of safety.

GREAT PATHE FEATURE AT MAJESTIC THEATRE

"Queen and Adventurer," the four-act Pathe drama showing at the Majestic, is truthfully described as a masterpiece. It is the story of Princess Marie, the daughter of Henry VIII, and an Italian adventurer with whom she has fallen in love. The fickle adventurer has been making love elsewhere as well, and, when Marie discovers this, the trouble and intrigue begin.

The scenes of English court life in the time of the Tudors are wonderful. The piece is magnificently staged without being in the least "stagey", while the acting throughout is superb.

There is also a Pathe Gazette full of good things, the chief being a review of the 42nd Highlanders by the Duke of Connaught and a beautiful colored series showing the latest Parisian fashions. "Spitball Sadie," a baseball comedy, in which the ladies are in marked contrast to the stately dames of the historical drama, kept the audience rocking with laughter. This show is well worth seeing.

NEVER SHEATHE SWORD UNTIL TRIUMPHANT

The following is an extract from a stirring speech delivered by Sir Robert Borden to a large audience at Halifax on Trafalgar Day:

"My visit to Great Britain and to France was crowded with most impressive incidents, which are indelibly fixed in my memory. The ruins of towns through which invading armies have swept; the valley of the dead, upon which the hills about Ypres look down; the lines where our gallant Canadians held a Bavarian division at bay, when I saw them in July; the graves of our glorious dead; the men in hospitals, whose physical weakness and suffering had not daunted their spirit; the division at Shorncliffe, straining at the leash in their eagerness to reach the fighting lines; the fine appreciation in Great Britain and France of Canadian valor and determination—of all this I could tell you much if time permitted. When the book is closed, and the story has been told, no more glorious incidents will have been recorded than those which distinguished our men at Ypres, Festubert and Givenchy.

"In the midsummer of a year ago our Empire spared no endeavor that might promise peace. Those who compelled this war counted upon our desire to avoid it, and believed that even in face of their reckless disregard of the most sacred obligations we would never draw the sword. We drew it reluctantly, but now that it has been drawn, now that the just cause for which it has been unsheathed has been consecrated, anew by the sacrifice of the Empire's best blood, we will never sheathe it until that cause is triumphant."

ERNEST A. WOODS, City Clerk.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church are holding their annual bazaar on November 20th.

NEWS OF PRINCE RUPERT BOYS AT SHORNCLIFFE

A letter has been received from W. A. Paterson, late of the Bank of Commerce staff and now at Shorncliffe with the 48th Battalion. He states that H. O. Crew is still suffering from the effects of gas and is likely to be sent back to Canada shortly. Mrs. McMordie and Mrs. Emmerson are at Shorncliffe. Mr. Emmerson's hands are still troubling him and it is unlikely that he will see further active service.

Mr. Paterson met C. H. P. Newcombe, formerly of Prince Rupert, who is now with the R. A. M. C. Denny Allen is at present acting as cyclist orderly to the general staff and is not likely to be in the trenches for some time. A. G. Vidler, formerly of the Bank of Commerce, is in England recovering from wounds, but expects to go back to the front at an early date.

C. P. R. STEAMER OTTER HAS BEEN FLOATED

The little C. P. R. steamer Otter, which went ashore on Sidney Island while proceeding to the help of the Mariposa, was pulled off the rocks late yesterday afternoon by the Vancouver Dredging & Salvage Co., who are working for the underwriters. The Otter was towed, bottom up, to a sheltered cove and the salvors intend to right her and then tow her to Vancouver. If things go right she will arrive here during the night.—Vancouver Province

NEWS OF THE 62ND.

A newsy letter from "Scotty" Dennis describes the good times boys of the 62nd had while crossing the Atlantic. The local contingent seems to have provided a fair share of the entertainment, while they also carried off many prizes in the ship-board sports. In a tug-o'-war between east and west, the Rocky Mountain boys were easy winners, with Lieut. Marshall as anchor.
