JUDGE TAYLOR DIES SUD- DENLY AT WHITEHORSE

All Whitehorse was shocked yesterday morning when the news was passed around that Judge Geo. L. Taylor had died a few minutes after midnight.

Judge Taylor had been feeling rather poorly for several days, but attributed his indisposition to indigestion, although Dr. Clarke informed him less than a week ago that his heart was weak. At 4 o'clock of the evening before he died he was on the street at which he informed several of his friends that he was feeling better than for several days. He retired at about 11 o'clock Wednesday night. Just before 12 Mrs. Taylor entered the room from her own and inquired as to how he was feeling and received the assurance that he was anticipating a good night's rest. Within fifteen minutes his wife heard a sort of gurgling groan and entered the room to find her husband just crossing death's threshold. Dr. Clarke and neighbors were quickly called, but could do nothing other than extend comfort to the living. The only members of the family here are Mrs. Taylor and their youngest daughter, Evelyn, the latter twelve years of age. Other members are Mrs. W. R. Hillery, of Skagway; Jack, with Borden's Battery now in France, and Wilfrid and Helen, twins and aged 18 years, both attending college in Toronto. Mrs. Hillery, accompanied by her husband, arrived from Skagway on yesterday's train. The body will be taken to Skagway today and embalmed for shipment to deceased's boyhood home, Bothwell, Ontario, next week, accompanied by Mrs. Taylor and Miss Evelyn.—Whitehorse Star.

The Royal Standard Test

Here's where we test the choicest samples of Canada's six million acre wheat crop. We grind them into flour in the little mill you see on the left of the picture. Then comes the supreme test—bread-baking. If the bread is perfect in every way we pronounce the wheat A1 and the flour—ROYAL STANDARD.

The Housekeeper is Right

Sometimes a housekeeper requires a quick leavening agent, and finds she has no baking powder.

What does she do?

She raises her biscuit by a mixture of cream of tartar and soda, or soda and sour milk. She may not get the proportions quite right, but she knows her food is safe. But does she ever use a mixture of alum and soda? Was there ever a housekeeper who bought alum and soda to make a home made baking powder? Intuitively she feels it would be unsafe.

Then why use baking powder made from alum or the same mixture that the housekeeper would not dare to mix and use in her food?

Alum is alum, whether bought in the drug store or in baking powder.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

is made from pure cream of tartar and contains no alum, lime or phosphate. There is absolute safety in its use.
