This fruit medicine gradually toned up the nerves and actually relieved the paralysis. By the use of 'Fruit-a-tives' I grew stronger until all the palsy left me. The Royal Standard Test

Here's where we test the choicest samples of Canada's six million acre wheat crop. We grind them into flour in the little mill you see on the left of the picture. Then comes the supreme test—bread-baking. If the bread is perfect in every way we pronounce the wheat A1 and the flour—ROYAL STANDARD.

The Housekeeper is Right

Sometimes a housekeeper requires a quick leavening agent, and finds she has no baking powder.

What does she do?

She raises her biscuit by a mixture of cream of tartar and soda, or soda and sour milk. She may not get the proportions quite right, but she knows her food is safe. But does she ever use a mixture of alum and soda? Was there ever a housekeeper who bought alum and soda to make a home made baking powder? Intuitively she feels it would be unsafe.

Then why use baking powder made from alum or the same mixture that the housekeeper would not dare to mix and use in her food?

Alum is alum, whether bought in the drug store or in baking powder.

DR. PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

is made from pure cream of tartar and contains no alum, lime or phosphate. There is absolute safety in its use.

VALUABLE DIAMOND LOST IN A COAL CELLAR

A diamond and two tons of coal play the leading parts in an incident which is interesting at Hatton Garden, London, almost as much as the war.

The scene was laid in Charles Street where daily valuable gems are handed about by dealers in the street. M. Ruby von Boolean, a Belgian, and Mr. Cohen de Lara, a Dutchman, met on Monday afternoon to negotiate the sale of a number of diamonds. They were standing on the cellar flap outside Ye Old Leather Bottle, and while one of them was handling the stones he dropped one. It fell through a small grating in the cellar flap on to the coal beneath.

For hours the coal was poked and moved about in a vain endeavour to find the diamond. Eventually Mr. de Lara bought the coal for $25 in order that it might be washed and the stone recovered. The coal was packed in bags the floor carefully swept, and a van drove off with the diamond (it is hoped) somewhere among the two tons of coal.

It has not yet been found.—Edinburgh Dispatch.
