

A LIFETIME OF SICKNESS

Worn Out, Thin and Miserable Until She Took "Fruit-a-tives"

PALMISTON, June 20th, 1914.
"Stomach Trouble and Distressing Headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago, I got a box of 'Fruit-a-tives,' your famous fruit medicine, and they completely relieved me. To-day I am feeling fine and a physician, meeting me on the street, asked the reason for my improved appearance. I said, 'I am taking Fruit-a-tives.' He said, 'If Fruit-a-tives make you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can.'"

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS.

KITCHENER IS KNOWN OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

London, Nov. 6.—Lord Kitchen-er seems to be the only cabinet minister who has impressed the imagination of the English children, according to an examination of fifteen-minute impromptu essays written by 3,081 school children at the instance of Dr. C. W. Wiggins of Southwark. The war lord was constantly referred to, but not a single other minister was mentioned.

The essays classified showed the girls reached the pitch of warlike feeling at the age of ten and the boys at eleven years. From the age of eleven onwards the pupils began to show anxiety on such questions as the cost of food and the Dardanelles operations connecting the forcing of the narrows with a plentiful food supply from Russia. Girls at thirteen manifest a maturity in their views of the war at least a year ahead of the boys. Curiously enough the advance on Paris and the retreat from Mons made little impression on the children.

A little girl, aged eleven wrote: "The origin of the war was thus: That when the German Emperor was at Windsor he insulted Queen Victoria and so King Edward smacked him round the face. The German Emperor said, 'I'll be avenged,' and hence the war."

A boy of twelve wrote: "The advantage of the war is that the men have learned to knit," and another boy wrote: "The main disadvantage of the war is that girls must remain old maids because there will not be any men left."

The Tories realize more clearly than ever that the huge gamble is over.
