Protest Against Landing Troops at Saloniki—Allied Line is Now Linked Up.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Athens, Nov. 13.—Bulgaria and Turkey have issued a protest to Greece against the number of Allied troops which have been allowed to disembark at Saloniki.

Allies' Lines Joined
The Allies' lines now join, the British being in the southeast, the French in the centre and the Serbian army in the northwest, along a battle front of ninety miles in southern Serbia.

Skirmishing is in progress, and marks the beginning of a great battle. If the Bulgar line can be pierced, it will enable the Allies to combine with the main Serbian army to resist the passage of the main Teuton army in its march across Serbia.

The entire Bulgarian force is endangered by the new scheme of operations.

SEATTLE MADE PORT UNDER HER OWN STEAM

The City of Seattle made port last night under her own steam, and with her nose showing signs of first aid treatment. Meantime, the exact extent of the damage done cannot be ascertained, but she has taken a considerable amount of water forward, and it is clear that her stem has been damaged and several plates have been sprung. About half of her cargo has been unloaded at the government wharf, in order to lighten her forward, but nothing more will be done until the arrival of officials of the Alaska Steamship Company and insurance men on the Admiral Farragut on Sunday evening.

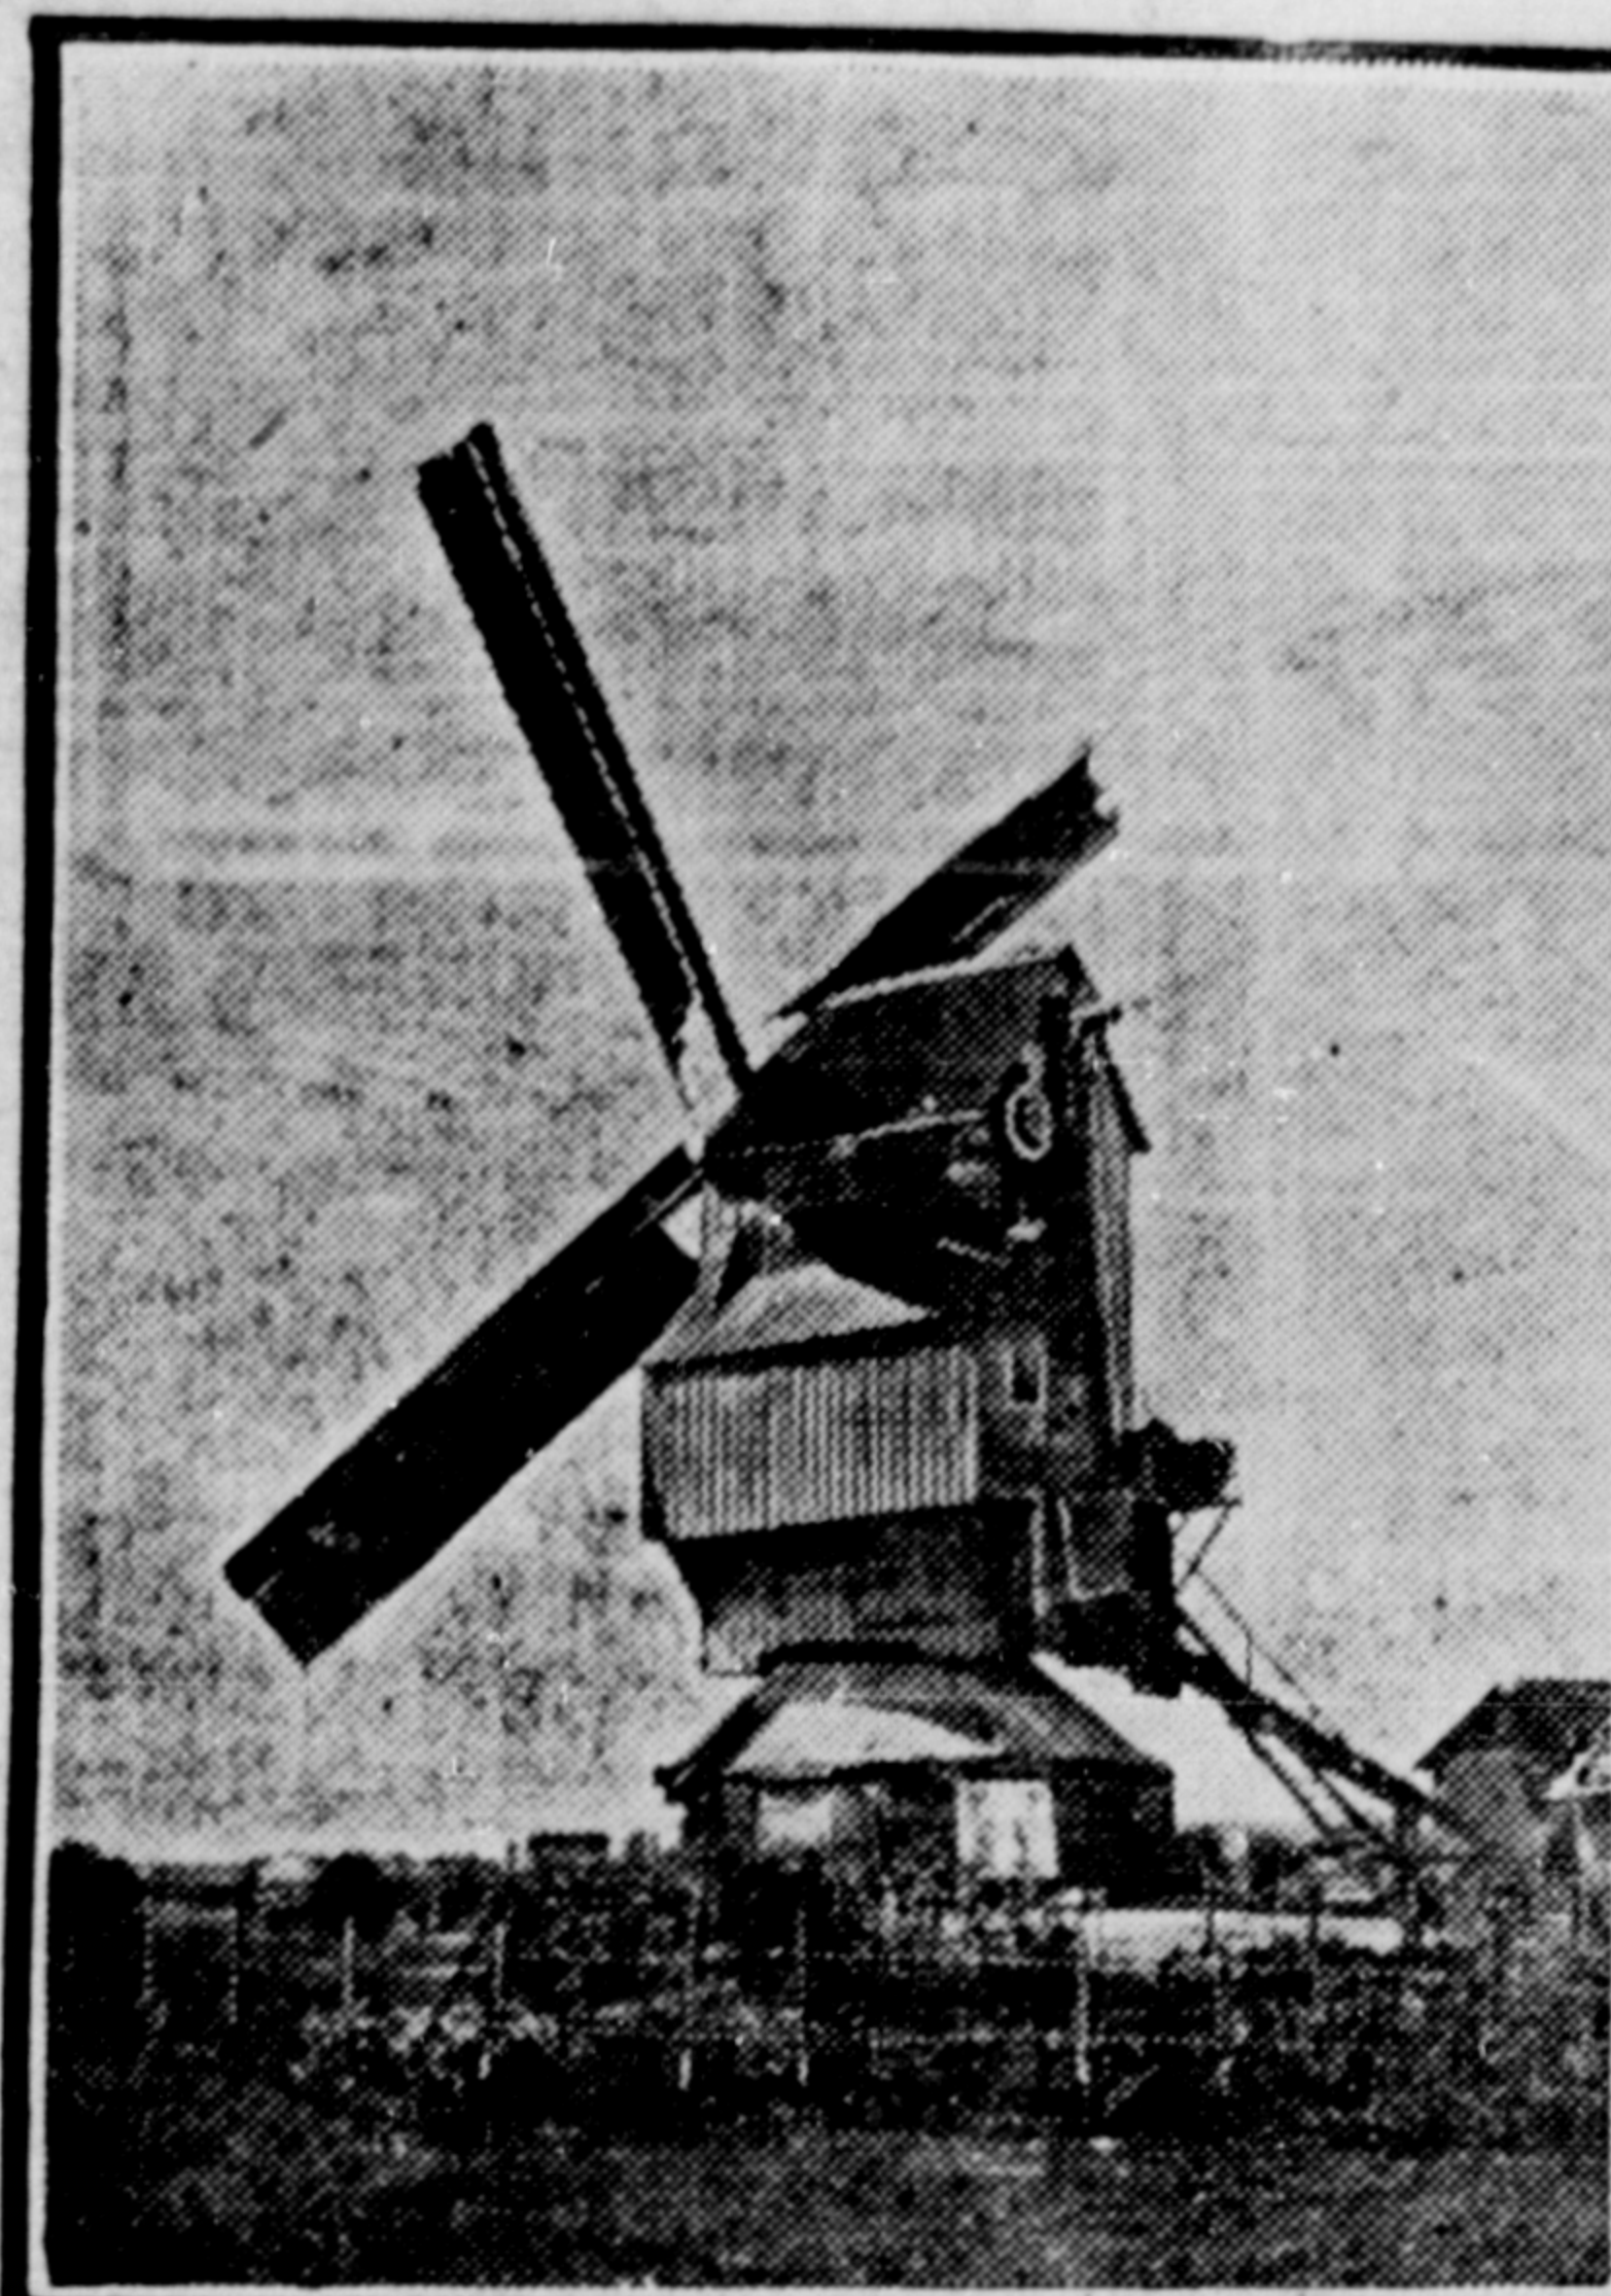

If it is found that the forward bulkheads will hold, the vessel may proceed to Seattle, but there is a possibility that she may be docked here. Captain McGillivray, her master, who was not on the bridge at the time of the mishap, has been on this run for 27 years and is one of the most capable navigators on the coast. The officers refrain from making any statement as to the cause of the accident, pending the arrival of the officials.

GERMAN SPIES SIMPLY SWARM IN THE STATES

Austrian Official Places Valuable Information Before United States Authorities.

(Special to The Daily News.)
Providence, R. I., Nov. 13.—Dr. Joseph Gooricar, who has been for fifteen years an official at the Austrian consulate, has resigned. In a statement to Washington, he says that the United States is honeycombed with Austrian and German spies, under Ambassador Von Bernstorff and Consul-General Von Nuber, who are engaged in a nation-wide propaganda for the creation of strikes and the committing of acts of violence at the various munitions plants.

He states that agents of the Central Powers have spent over $30,000,000 in this class of work since the war began. The names of prominent officials in the leading American cities are included in the charge. President Wilson has ordered the department of justice to make a thorough investigation into the charges.

WINSTON CHURCHILL WILL GO TO THE FRONT

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, Nov. 12.—It is officially announced that the Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, will proceed to the front. Winston Churchill, who was formerly first lord of the admiralty, until the formation of the coalition cabinet, saw considerable warfare while correspondent in South Africa, being taken prisoner by the Boers, from whom he ultimately escaped.

The late cabinet minister says he prefers life at the front to well paid inactivity.

GERMAN MUNITIONS HIDDEN IN AFRICA

London, Nov. 12.—A despatch to the Times from Cape Town asserts that Henry Burton, minister of railways of the Union of South Africa, declared in a speech at Natal that huge quantities of ammunition had been discovered hidden in Damaraland, Southwest Africa.

The minister said there was sufficient ammunition to equip 60,000 men, and that the Germans had hoped to overthrow the government of the Union of South Africa with the aid of a rebellion.

AUTO MEETS TROUBLE ON FULTON STREET

At an early hour this morning an automobile came to grief on Fulton Street near the Catholic Club, when it encountered a milk wagon travelling, it is reported, without lights. The car was turned off the roadway and struck a telephone pole. The pole was not seriously damaged but the auto required first aid and it will cost about $100 to put it in shape. Fortunately no one received injury.

STRIKING DRAMA AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

"The Tides of Time" is one of the most extraordinary dramas ever screened, and the audience at the Westholme last night followed it with breathless interest. In the old man's dream of the seven ages of man the story of life is wonderfully portrayed, finishing with a glimpse of Heaven and a flash of Hell. There is a most realistic scene of shipwreck and a startling explosion, in which a cruiser is blown to atoms, while the horrors of war are truthfully brought home.

The lighter side of life is also brightly displayed in the sprightly "Cutty Fortune Hunting," "Ham" excels himself as a mirth-provoker in a sausage factory. He finds shooting live sausages great sport and churns up dogs in the most casual fashion.
"The Sacrifice," a dramatic episode in "The Road O' Strife," concludes a program which no one can afford to miss.

Spectacular Fight.

Paris, Nov. 13.—An official report tells of a spectacular fight in which a small French war vessel figured as the victor. The little craft had a crew of only ten men and was surprised off the Island of Crete in the Mediterranean by a schooner carrying arms and munitions for the enemy, and with forty-eight Turks on board, eleven of them officers. The little vessel closed with its bigger opponent and captured the Turkish schooner, all the men and the entire cargo of munitions.

TOLL OF THE SEA

The schooner Constance has brought in word that the American halibut schooner Yakatat, which put in here recently with her catch, encountered very heavy weather in the north early in the week, and, in making Yakatat Bay, had two of her crew and several dories swept overboard. The men were never seen again. The skipper had a very narrow escape, being swept along the deck and rather seriously injured.

AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE CHASED ESCAPING BOATS

Passengers Killed While in Their Cabins—More Steamers Submerged.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, Nov. 13.—Survivors from the liner Ancona state that the Austrian submarine kept up a cannonade while the passengers were embarking into the ship's boats. Dr. Cecil Griel, of New York, one of the survivors, states that a maid was killed whilst standing talking in her cabin. Survivors who have arrived at Tunis report that the submarine chased some of the lifeboats in the night, capsizing some of them.

Steamers Sunk.

London, Nov. 13.—The Italian steamer Fironzo, of 3,970 tons, has been sunk in the Mediterranean. Six of her passengers and fifteen of her crew are missing.
