GREEK BLOCKADE ADVOCATED BY PARIS

BULGAR REGIMENT REFUSES TO OBEY--BRITISH SUBMARINE DOES GREAT WORK

PARIS URGES BLOCKADE OF GREEK PORTS

Growing Distrust of Greece in Paris—Rigid Blockade Advocated as the Only Course.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, Dec. 7.—There is a growing distrust of Greece being displayed here. The Matin correspondent in Athens says that Greece is playing for time in the hope that the Allies will be forced to the sea by the Teutons and Bulgars.

Blockade Advocated.

It is claimed that Greece will refuse to concede any of the Allies' demands a week hence. The Matin advocates a rigid blockade which is calculated to aid the popular discontent of the Greek people with the royal policy. Business circles are very anxious as to such a move by the Allies, as a blockade means starvation and financial ruin to the whole country.

ALD. BEVERIDGE WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT "JOE"

At the city council last night a report of the city engineer to the board of works regarding complaints of insufficient and irregular water supply, lodged by residents on Park Avenue, was brought down.

The engineer reported that Park Ave. was supplied through a 2-inch wooden main, which had probably become broken. He advised replacing this with an 8-in. cast iron main for a distance of 910 feet, the same to form part of the permanent system. The estimated cost was $1,030, including hydrant and connections.

The board of works recommended that the report be adopted. The finance committee recommended that the main be laid in accordance with the proposed system to Digby Island.

Ald. Beveridge said that if this was to be part of the government work, it should be left until next summer if there was a prospect of that work being started then. He understood that Alderman Maitland had said that some man called Joe had stopped this work. He wanted to know why anyone outside of the council should have anything to do with the work. He thought that it was time all this "Joe" business had stopped.

By doing this work on Park Avenue, the city would be unable to provide the necessary hydrant on 4th Avenue, so that the efforts of "Joe" had seriously interfered with the welfare of the city.

The mayor said that the Digby Island scheme had come to a deadlock in the council. No one seemed to be willing to make a compromise therefore the matter had been dropped meantime. He was satisfied that if the city did this part of the work now it would be taken over by the government along with the rest. The report was adopted.

ALD. BEVERIDGE WANTS LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT

A report from the light superintendent regarding the erecting of a large lamp at Cow Bay was presented to the council last night. He recommended that it be connected with the cluster at Davis' float, the work being done with material on hand and without any outside help.

Ald. Beveridge stated that this float was outside of the city. He protested against the efforts of the committee in providing better light for a place outside of the city while many parts of the city remain poorly lit. Outside of Section 4, he held that the lighting was a disgrace and the lack of light a danger.

The mayor said that Ald. Beveridge had been on the light committee for some ten months and conditions had been the same during that time. He thought the alderman should have brought the matter up in committee. With regard to the light at the float, he regarded it as an absolute necessity as men had fallen into the water in the dark.

Ald. Beveridge said that he had been obliged to be away for some months. He objected to money being spent off the city limits.

The mayor said that he might have brought the matter up in committee.

Ald. Beveridge said that he would just as soon bring these matters up in open council.

Ald. Nicol supported Ald. Beveridge in his contention regarding the poor lighting. He had fallen down a stairway on the way

ANGUS STATES THAT NAGANO STABBED PITMAN

Continuing the trial of Nagano and Ohara for the murder of John Pittman at Port Essington on July 30th, yesterday afternoon Harry Murphy was in the witness box. He testified to going into the Jap restaurant with Angus and Pittman. Carlson was having a bowl of soup and a disturbance arose over the paying for it.

Kameda grabbed one of witness' crutches, then Nagano threw a stool. Murphy's other crutch was taken and both were broken in the melee. He remained seated and the Japs jumped on him. He fell to the floor. Angus started throwing dishes and the Japs went through the back door.

The white men made for the front door where they got jammed. He noticed the Japs coming with knives. He was just over the sill when someone stabbed him. He fell down outside and Kameda kicked him in the ear.

Cross examined by Mr. Shoebottom and Mr. Patmore, witness said Carlson was drunk. He saw four Japs in the place. What happened after he was stabbed he could not say.

Dr. Large gave evidence as to the wound which caused Pittman's death. He did not conduct the post mortem examination, therefore did not probe the wound to find out the exact nature of it. He also testified to examining a pool of blood on the side walk where Pittman fell.

This morning, Robert Angus was examined. He testified to the starting of the trouble through Carlson ordering soup which he could not pay for. After describing the row in the restaurant, he told of the Japs following them outside, and asserted most positively that Nagano stabbed Pittman with a knife. At 11:30, George McColl, the foreman of the jury, took sick and the case was postponed until 2:30 this afternoon.

"THE BROKEN COIN" AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

The "Governor Maker" is an election story in which a labor squabble plays a prominent part. There is a most thrilling motor accident in the story. An interesting animated weekly and a delightfully amusing matrimonial mix-up, entitled "It Might Have Been Serious," complete a good program.

There is a sensational drama coming Wednesday and the one and only Charlie Chaplin is due soon in two reels of mirth, entitled "The Bank."
