WATER NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that R. B. McGinnis, whose address is Alice Arm, British Columbia, will apply for a licence to take and use fifteen second feet of water out of Trout Creek, which flows westerly and drains into Kitsault River, about 16 miles north of its outlet at Alice Arm, B. C. The water will be diverted from the stream at a point about 500 vertical feet above point of use, near its mouth, and will be used for power and mining purpose upon the land described as Wolf Group of Mining Claims. This notice was posted on the ground on the 26th day of October, 1915. A copy of this notice and an application pursuant thereto and to the "Water Act, 1914" will be filed in the office of the Water Recorder at Prince Rupert, B. C. Objections to the application may be filed with the said Water Recorder or with the Comptroller of Water Rights, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B. C., within thirty days after the first appearance of this notice in a local newspaper. The date of the first publication of this notice is November 9th, 1915.
R. B. MCGINNIS, Applicant.

COUNSEL ADDRESSES JURY

contradictory. Witnesses always vary a little, according to their view, and it was notable that the Crown witnesses did differ in small particulars, which pointed to the truth of their statements. There was nothing to show that there was any premeditation on the part of the Japs. The Crown had failed to show that there was any lull in the fighting, during which the Japs made up their minds to attack with knives.

White men treated as the Japs were would have grabbed guns, and the Japs, naturally, grabbed knives in protection. If there was concerted action, both men were guilty. He submitted that there was no such action. He claimed that Angus showed clearly that Nagano had a knife, and other witnesses bore this out. Pierce, Wesley and Ratchford all saw Nagano drive a knife towards Pitman on the platform. There was no blood on Ohara's sweater, while Nagano's clothes were covered with blood.

W. E. Fisher, for the Crown, claimed that Ohara's evidence corroborated the evidence of the Crown witnesses. Angus said he saw the blow which struck Pitman and immediately got mixed up with Nagano, and this would account for Angus stating that Pitman was struck at the foot of the steps. He held that the evidence of Ratchford and Pierce was very strong, as they were not taking part in the fight. They clearly showed that Nagano turned round, drove his knife and immediately they noticed blood on his clothing.

He sought to show that there was a lull inside the cafe after which the japs attacked with knives. Nagano and Ohara made for the back window, stayed there for some little time and then changed their minds. Both men were angry. Nagano admitted that he would have struck Angus with his cleaver. Angus was the last man to get out of the cafe, and therefore saw exactly what happened.

He dwelt upon the inconsistencies in Mrs. Kameda's evidence. She was quite close to Kimura at the back door and yet did not see Kimura. He claimed that the Jap evidence was manufactured. He described Nagano's using of a cleaver as a protection as farcical. He could have got behind the meat block, which would have been much more effective. He held that it was proved that Nagano had a knife.

His Lordship, in summing up, dwelt on the difference between manslaughter and murder, and asked the jury to seriously consider as to whether the Japs were provoked. The jury retired at noon.

Will Your "Boy" Spend Christmas "Somewhere in France"?
Then help him spend it Merrily!

Nothing is too good to send to the boys who are serving King and Country. But let our gifts show thought and judgment as well as good-will and love.

Among the few really acceptable gifts—smokes and pipes, chocolates and sweet biscuits, fountain pens and tooth brushes, toilet and shaving supplies—the Gillette Safety Razor ranks as a warm favorite, for one of the real luxuries of trench life is a clean, comfortable Gillette shave.

It's a luxury the lucky ones share with their pals, so send along plenty of extra blades. If he has a Gillette already, a few boxes of blades will go far toward making him the most popular man in his Company.

Welcome as it is on the firing line, the Gillette is even more keenly appreciated in the hospitals. With it the wounded can shave themselves safely, easily and regularly. They certainly do enjoy the Gillette—and Doctors and Nurses can scarcely speak well enough of it.

Gillette "Bulldog" and Standard Sets cost $5.00 each—compact Pocket Editions $5.00 to $6.00—Combination Sets, including Soap, Brush, etc., $6.50 up. If you wish it, your Druggist, Jeweler or Hardware Dealer will arrange delivery through us, at the Front, of the Set you select, without shipping expense to you.
