THE HOLY LAND IS GERMAN MILITARY CAMP

An American exchange recently to hand contains a letter from a Spanish priest in Damascus in which the writer describes how the Germans and Turks have turned the Holy Land into a military camp.

The letter states that Jerusalem is no longer visited by bands of pilgrims, as the whole district is in the hands of companies of Turkish soldiers, officered by Germans.

The Turks are carrying on a holy war in which they have destroyed many valuable historical Christian relics. Calvary is a German-Turkish military camp, and a German named Hans Mollar is running a cafe on the mount in which the German officers spend their evenings drinking beer and singing German military songs.

On the Mount of Olives, two Krupp guns have been mounted and artillery practice is carried out regularly. Last August, this priest witnessed a German-Turkish sham battle between the Mount of Olives and Kedron.
