CHRISTMAS WAR CRY

The Christmas number of the War Cry, which is just to hand, is a particularly striking number, both as to colored illustrations and reading matter. Amongst others, there is a very fine double-page colored plate, "Christ on the Battlefield," showing the Red Cross soldiers helping the wounded. There are also splendid portraits of General Booth, commissioner, and Mrs. Sowton, who were here recently, and other notable officers.

PLAY THE GAME

The German artillery were doing their best to erase a small town from the map. Every few minutes there would be a deafening crash and the remains of a house would soar skywards enveloped in a cloud of smoke.

In a field in the outskirts of the town some Canadian soldiers, relieved from the trenches for a few days, were indulging in their favorite game of baseball. The pitcher had just pitched the ball and the batsman had hit an easy catch to one of the fielders when a huge shell landed in the adjoining field. The fielder's attention was fixed on the shell, which burst with a deafening crash, and he missed the catch.

"For the love of Mike," roared the pitcher, who was a typical Irish-Canadian, "if you are going to play baseball, play baseball, and quit watching the shells."—Tit Bits.

F. W. Warlock, who has been in the city for a few days on business, left for Vancouver this morning.
