GERMANY'S OUTLOOK

Several comparisons of the financial policies of Germany and Great Britain have been made in these columns. That of Germany bears the marks of recklessness and improvidence. None of the money required for the war has been raised by increased taxation, and each successive loan means fresh inflation of the currency which shows itself in a steady rise in prices. The more this procedure is persisted in the more will prices rise, and as Lord Incheape pointed out in London last week in his inaugural address as president of the Institute of Bankers, all official attempts to fix maximum prices, though they may be successful for a time in regard to individual commodities, will be powerless to meet the situation. The task of redeeming the securities and retiring the notes will be left for an exhausted and defeated nation to face after the conclusion of peace. The British government has resisted all attempts to unsound methods.

Finance and economics are playing a very important part in this war, and in favor of the Allies. Every week Germany's position becomes worse. Now and again, despite the rigid censorship existing around the German empire like a steel wall, we hear echoes of the complaints which must be becoming numerous in the Fatherland. Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, of Berlin, in the latest issue of his newspaper, received in London, for instance, tells his countrymen that they must expect a war of exhaustion. He ridicules the German talk about Swedish intervention and the idea that Russia will conclude a separate peace. He says he considers it no sign of strength that the German government steadily refuses to disclose "its war aims," and blames the government for making "too much noise" about food regulations.—Monetary Times.

OUR FISH TRADE

The following is an extract from an article in the Monetary Times on the Pacific coast fishing industry:

"The latest fishery statistics are contained in the provincial report for the year ending March 31st, 1915. It shows that British Columbia during the twelve months preceding leads all provinces, and her production of fish forms nearly half the total for all Canada. A feature of development is the growing importance of Prince Rupert as a fishery centre. With the opening of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, shipments may be made direct, and as a result nearly all the companies operating out of Seattle have established themselves in the northern city. Fish shipments out of Prince Rupert are large and steadily increasing."

SOLDIERS' STERILIZERS

Our soldiers at the front are provided with a powder which, when thrown into water, instantly sterilizes the microbes in it and also gives it a pleasant flavor. The men carry this powder in a pocket medicine case, which contains as well cubes for turtle soup, remedies in the form of gelatine squares, and other necessities for those who have to "fend" for themselves for days together.—Tit Bits.

ALLIES' PLANS FOR THE FUTURE OF EUROPE

A correspondent to the Chicago Herald, who has been in close touch with the leading European diplomats, gives the following as the Allies' plans for the future arrangement of Europe.

(1) The war shall be continued until Germany and Austria are forced to accept whatever terms are given them, and each of the four great powers is pledged to continue the war until it is abandoned by the unanimous consent of the four.

Allies to Dictate Terms.

(2) There shall be no arbitration by Holland, America or other neutral powers, but the four Allies shall dictate the terms of peace.

(3) There shall be three classes of nations established in Europe. Class "A" shall consist of Great Britain, Russia, France and Italy. Class "B" shall consist of Belgium, Holland, Serbia, Spain, Portugal, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Roumania, Greece and Bulgaria. Class "C" shall consist of Bohemia, Poland, Bavaria, Croatia, Hungary, and the other minor states into which, by racial affinities, the German and Austrian empires shall be split.

To Guarantee Peace.

Class "A" states shall guarantee the peace of Europe. Class "B" states shall be entirely independent, but disputes between them must be arbitrated by the Class "A" states.

Class "C" states shall be independent, but have no soldiers of their own, except for police duties and shall make no international treaties, either commercial or postal.
