"SONS OF FRANCE" AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

To thoroughly realize just what happened in France at the outbreak of the war and after, you must see "Sons of France" at the Majestic Theatre tonight and tomorrow. This great war picture depicts industrial France in turmoil before the war and how the sons of that great country sprang to arms as one man when the German menace appeared. The pictures outline in wonderful fashion the various phases of the war, showing actual war conditions in the most realistic way. This is one of the most marvellous series of war pictures ever screened and must not be missed. There is also a fine Pathe Gazette, a reel of picturesque views of Zeeland and "Doughnuts," a roaring comedy.

"THE VOICE IN THE FOG" AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

Donald Brian, of "Merry Widow" fame, makes his debut as a movie star in "The Voice in the Fog," which is presented at the Westholme tonight and tomorrow, in five great acts. This play is founded upon Harold McGrath's famous novel of the same name, and is one of the finest photoplays ever produced by Lasky.

Donald Brian takes the part of Thomas Webb, a young Englishman of title and fortune who forfeits the use of his title for three months to a professional confidence man, who involves Webb in countless difficulties. Webb finds employment as secretary to a young woman who recognizes his voice as the voice she heard in London at the moment when a hand reached into her cab from out of a fog and stole her necklace. Webb was with his friend the confidence man when the theft occurred but knew nothing of it. In an exciting climax, Webb reveals his identity and clears up the mystery. Two good comedies complete a first-rate show.

SLOW HUNS

A big German Officer went into a shop in Brussels and explained to the old woman inside that Germany was ever so many times bigger than Belgium.

"How is it, then," she inquired, "that you can travel through Germany in three weeks, whereas you have taken over a year to get through Belgium, and you are not through yet?"

The officer saluted the old woman and walked away.—Ex.

- FACT HUNGER -

As children, our first demand is for nourishment; our second for facts.

All through life we go about searching for information.

We make a new acquaintance; but before we will accept him as a friend or invite him to our home we ask for facts about him.

We visit a foreign land; and from the moment we step across its border we are asking questions—searching for facts.

We are asked to try a new food product; isn't it instinctive with us to ask at once:

"Who makes this new article?"

"How is it made? what goes into it?"

"Is it worth the price charged for it?"

Facts—we are simply hungry for them.

Strange, isn't it, that we should so often have to search for them? Odd, that some manufacturers still withhold the facts about their product. Not always because they are facts to be ashamed of—for there are many worthy articles yet unadvertised.

But it will not be so much longer. The fact-hunger of the human race is becoming keener and keener. The more facts we get, the keener our relish for more of them.

Soon it will be impossible to sell a man or a woman anything until everything has been told about the goods that can be told through Advertising.

The public has discovered that Advertising tells much-needed facts—that, in fact, Advertising satisfies fact-hunger.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.
If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
