PREMIER'S SPEECH

Premier Bowser, in his recent lengthy speech in the legislature, again accused the opposition of preaching "blue ruin," and remarked that this was a time for optimism and not for pessimism. Mr. Bowser may rest assured that the opposition views the future with unbounded optimism. It is quite well aware of the possibilities of the province of British Columbia, under a safe government—a government which will not propose to pay over $75,000 to a political press agent without receiving an exact accounting of every cent.

Mr. Bowser says that "The independent voter at this time is badly affected by political revelations in other provinces." The independent voter of British Columbia has not found it necessary to go outside of the boundaries of this province in order to secure evidence on which to base his opinion. The mere fact that Joe Matson was given $75,000, to do what he liked with, is enough in itself to condemn the McBride-Bowser administration in the eyes of any sane, thinking man. The premier reiterates the story of the wealth of the province. Again, it may be remarked that the fact that such a wealthy province has to confess to being $18,000,000 in the hole is sufficient condemnation for any government.

The Tory press agents in Victoria claim that Mr. Matson made a good deal for the government when he purchased the Songhees Reserve from the Indians. Such deals are just exactly the standard of that government. If the government made such a good deal as they claim—getting millions worth of property for thousands—then the Indians did not get a square deal, and Matson and the rest of the crew stand condemned out of their own mouths. As a matter of fact, Mr. Matson has not yet completed his contract in the matter, according to his evidence before the public accounts committee.

The fact which has condemned the government in the eyes of the outside voter is that the men on the government payroll in most districts have been simply paid election agents. As a matter of fact a local road-boss is at the present moment on a vote-getting tour for the party, at the people's expense. No flowery generalities of the premier or any other minister or member will prove of the slightest use in denying facts which come under the everyday notice of men throughout the province. The Bowser gang stand condemned, not because of anything which any member of the opposition may say, but by their own acts which come under the everyday notice of voters throughout the province. Their methods have been Prussian and they must pay the same price as the Prussians will have to pay.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

A plentiful supply of tar and feathers is what should be applied to the brutes who massacred the poor women and children of Serbia.

Villa seems to be quite an elusive gentleman and is likely to give General Pershing quite a run for victory.

If the government grant the vote to the women of the province on June 1st, they can forget about the liquor vote and the prohibition vote and lay claim to the favor of the ladies.

The Crown Prince must be getting quite peevish at the unwillingness of the French to allow themselves to be cornered.

Bowser is trying to make the people believe that the guarantee of the capital and interest of the Canadian Northern bonds is a guarantee which is not a guarantee.

The Songhees Reserve Indians who can read English must be tickled to learn that Joe Matson slipped one over on them when he persuaded them to part with millions of dollars worth of property for a few thousands.

MANITOBA ABOLISHES ARCHITECT'S DEPARTMENT

The Norris government of Manitoba has abolished the office of the provincial architect, which was costing the province $30,000 a year. The employees have been given notice that their services will not be required after the end of March.

It has been decided that much better results, at much less cost, will be obtained by asking for plans of all public buildings in open competition. The old system of having a provincial architect and a staff of assistants led to a sameness of design in the public buildings.
