DRYDOCK RESOLUTION IS ENDORSED AT PUBLIC MEETING

ditions had delayed the following out to completion of some of their plans, but he had every confidence that the company would carry through the work.

Prince Rupert and British Columbia were going through a time of depression, but the people of this province had a reputation for overcoming difficulties. (A voice "Oh you Dick McBride.") Mr. Mehan smilingly assured the interrupter that he had no political aspirations.

He felt it was a time for all to join hands and make the best of things and all would come out right in the end.

Ald. Casey asked if the drydock was ready to make munitions. Mr. Mehan said it was, and that Mr. Donnelly had taken the matter up with no results.

Mr. Mehan added that, when Mr. Pillsbury went south some time ago, he went at the instance of himself (Mr. Mehan) to investigate an enquiry as to the capacity of the dock.

V. A. Cole thought that the matter would come to a head on June 1st, when the dock would be taken over by the government or the G. T. P.

Mr. Mehan said that Mr. Cole seemed to have inside information. The resolution was then put and carried unanimously, the mayor remarking that he could already see the workmen coming up over the hill with their pails.

A. J. Prudhomme moved that the resolution be sent by wire, by mail, and followed by a deputation.

Ald. Casey asked Mr. Mehan if the company would give transportation. The general superintendent said he would willingly do anything that would help the matter along.
