POLITICS FIRST

Public men of a certain type are incapable of regarding the war in any other light than as a convenient and timely agency for the promotion of political ends. Friends of ministers naturally look at the matter from another standpoint; as an opportune diversion in the affairs of the world which can be turned to their personal profit. Those, in short, may be cited as the reasons why there have been no many scandals in connection with administration of the militia department. The proposal to move the troops stationed in the neighborhood of Victoria, the best training station on the continent, to Vernon and other places is due to the desire of R. F. Green, M. P., and Hon. Martin Burrell to gain political favor with the electors of the interior through the medium of public expenditures in their constituencies. What do people of that calibre care about the cost to the country of the unnecessary transportation of soldiers from one part of the country to another? Furthermore, what matters it to them that the British military authorities are clamoring for men while units which have been in training in Canada, in some cases for more than a year and are eager to get to the front, are denied the opportunity they crave?—Victoria Times.

THE FUSES

One cannot wonder that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the opposition generally are dissatisfied with a Royal Commission as a medium for the fuse investigation. This dissatisfaction is shared by many Conservatives who think beyond mere party lines and by independent voters who are becoming more numerous and heartily sick of the pilfering and patronage business, federal and provincial. Royal Commissions, no matter how substantial their personnel, have in the aggregate proved farcical. They take voluminous evidence, but by the time their report is filed, half a dozen brand new scandals have arrived and those under investigation by the royal commission have either died, disappeared or been sent to a political refuge.

Sir Robert Borden should take a much stronger stand on this fuse and shell business. The citizens ask for that. They feel that something is wrong. The government must clean house, even if the loss of a cabinet minister is involved. Otherwise, the country will help the government to clean house and in a way which may prove surprising to the premier and his supporters.—Monetary Times.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Berlin seems to be at last realizing that there is a limit to the submarine correspondence, and that President Wilson is capable of doing something more strenuous than sending notes.

The accounts by eye-witness of the fighting around St. Elloi make just as thrilling reading as his description of the battles of Ypres and Festubert. Tobin's Tigers are measuring up to the standard expected of them.

Sir Sam Hughes is given to making speeches, but that which he will deliver in the House today will be the most important of his life.

William Manson waxed eloquent over the Soldiers' Home-stand Bill, but the best points he made covered matters which unfortunately are not included in the bill. For instance, he insisted that the genuine settler who has worked hard making improvements, and who has purchased his land from a speculator who has not paid up, must be protected. However, the bill does not protect him in the least.

Jack Place has introduced a woman's suffrage bill regularly every session and it has regularly been consigned to the waste paper basket. This year, he has been asked to withdraw it to allow Bowser to bring in a bill of his own which shall be put to a referendum. Why all this sudden consideration for a matter which the Tories have always turned down, just as they did Workmen's compensation?

CITY AUDITOR

At the city council last night, a letter from W. E. Hodges, of Vancouver, was read offering to do the city's auditing for next year at the same figure as this year, namely $1,200. On the motion of Ald. Montgomery and Ald. Barrie, the matter was referred to the finance committee for report.

SPLENDID VARIETY AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

There is wide variety in the eight-reel show at the Westholme tonight, in which the Topical Budget has some fine war scenes, including that of the Grand Duke Nicholas presenting medals to some of his soldiers.

"The Grudge" is a thrilling two act western drama of more than usual interest, in which there is an abundance of the "wild and woolly" element. "The Renegade" is a story of the African wilds, in which a young nobleman becomes a slave and his captor goes to England to claim his estates. Of course it all comes right in the end. "The New York Girl" is a lively two-act comedy depicting the adventures of a city girl in the country. There is also a very fine series of views of the Riviera.

"THE GODDESS" TONIGHT AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

"The Goddess" becomes more popular each week at the Majestic, and deservedly so. As the "Goddess" the famous Anita Stewart scores a big success. In this installment she plays fairy godmother to a poor family in the slums of New York, her appearance in the metropolis causing a great sensation.

"Perkin's Pep Producer," a Bloom Center comedy, is of the rollicking type. The Selig Tribune Weekly has some splendid Mexican war scenes, including pictures of Villa and General Funston.

"The Heart of the Sheriff," a western drama, and "The Leather Goods Lady," a bright comedy, complete a good show.
