PUGSLEY. FAVORS SHIPBUILDING PLAN

said that the very best aeroplanes were being built now in Toronto for the British government. The factory had six hundred men and it was shipping three aeroplanes a week. There was no reason, he said, why the industry could not be enlarged and aeroplanes built, also at other places in Canada. The estimate of a school of aviation also had been suggested in connection with the naval college at Halifax.

Hon. Mr. Hazen, replying to Mr. Turfitt, said that it would take a year to build a seven thousand ton vessel, and while it would quickly be paid for by the high freight rates if the war continued, the rates would fall considerably though not to the old level, if the war ended. The rates would be maintained above normal because of the number of commercial ships destroyed during the war.

Aviation was more a matter for the militia department. However, he thought that Canada had very little need for a flying corps at the present time. The government had been assisting Britain with regard to the flying service and had examined 206 Canadians who wanted to enter the service. They took their training in flying in this country and 170 already had been sent to England. This was all that had been asked for. Two men from Winnipeg, he added, who had received the very best training in the United States, had come here in order to be sent to England, but they had to be refused because they were 31 and 32 years old respectively, and the age limit of 30 years is strictly adhered to by the admiralty.

The Royal Standard Test

Here's where we test the choicest samples of Canada's six million acre wheat crop. We grind them into flour in the little mill you see on the left of the picture. Then comes the supreme test—bread-baking. If the bread is perfect in every way we pronounce the wheat A1 and the flour—ROYAL STANDARD.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

- 1.—How long am I to serve? Until the end of the war and six months after if required.
- 2.—What pay shall I receive? Your pay as a private will be $1.00 per day and 10 cents field allowance. Besides this you will be clothed, equipped and subsisted by the Government.
- 3.—What will my wife receive during my absence? Every month there will be paid her a separation allowance of $20 (also part of your pay) and if this be not enough to comfortably maintain your family, the Canadian Patriotic Fund will further assist them.
- 4.—What will happen if I am wounded or sick? You will be cared for by the Government and your pay continued until you are discharged. If you are permanently disabled an allowance will be paid you, varying according to the extent of your injury or disability.
- 5.—What will be done for my wife and children if I die while on Active Service? The Government will provide an adequate pension, that will enable the family to live comfortably until the children are old enough to look after themselves.
