GOOD WORK

The people of Prince Rupert are to be congratulated upon the response they have made to the calls upon them in aid of the Red Cross fund. These are hard times and money is scarce and it says much for the self-sacrifice of those who are here that such a substantial sum was realised at the Carnival of the Allies. It is evidence that the same spirit which prompted the boys to cross the Atlantic to help defeat the Germans remains in the hearts of those they left behind.

That the gallant work done by our soldiers on the field of battle had not a little to do with the ready response goes without saying. The recent reports of the fighting around St. Elói, in which the Canadian soldiers held positions which were almost untenable must have moved many, to giving more than they would otherwise have done.

While the continual demand for money is a severe drain upon our reduced population, it is gratifying to find that it is being met cheerfully and that, though there are fewer people here than when the war broke out, there is more money forthcoming for Red Cross work than at the beginning of the war. The feverish excitement of the early days of the war has abated and people have settled down to a more clear understanding of what is really required of them. Besides supplying necessary hospital outfit, the raising of such a sum as was realised by the Carnival of the Allies will do much to encourage the men in the trenches, as the mere fact that they are remembered by the folks at home will nerve them to even greater efforts.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

For the benefit of the Journal, we repeat that the Liberals of Vancouver are clearly demonstrating the kind of election tactics they will not tolerate, and we may add that the Liberals took action in the matter the moment they discovered that there had been an attempt at wrong-doing.

Bowser is to tour the province after the legislature dissolves. He will pose as the man who gave us Workmen's Compensation and not as the man who steadily refused it for years.

When Premier Bowser comes here, it is not likely that he will enlighten the people as to why they should be asked to pay $20,000 a year, and then some, just for the privilege of having him as premier.

The Rev. William Boulton, Conservative candidate for South Vancouver, says that citizens today demand men who appreciate justice, morality and the higher things in government. That is why the Liberals are so certain that H. C. Brewster will be the next premier of this province.

It is time that the fishermen were betting busy in considering what action should be taken in regard to the refusal of the Fisheries Advisory Board to consider their demands.

The Tories are trying to show that the premier is not the Mr. Bowser who has tried to play Kaiser in this province for years. Certainly he has tried to be a different kind of ruler since the fatal by-elections, but, were he returned to power, he would be the same old dictator.

Measured by the cost of most foods, a breakfast or luncheon of Shredded Wheat with milk and cream is worth a dollar—and the cost is not over five cents. Possibly it was not spotted fever which ended the career of Von Der Goltz, in fact it is more than likely that this is but the German name for a more sudden form of death which is prevalent in Turkey at present.

ANOTHER PARTY OF YOUNG LADIES COMING

Eastern newspapers are organising another excursion for a large party of young ladies through this north country during the coming summer. On this occasion they will probably make a tour of the Alaskan coast after leaving Prince Rupert. The advance circular dwells at length upon the consideration shown last summer's party by the officials of the Grand Trunk Pacific and gives pictures of the scenery through the mountains and along the Skeena.

GREAT SERIAL STARTS AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

The Westholme tonight presents the first installment of the great "Graft" serial. This is one of the strongest stories ever depicted and covers the machinations of a large wealthy syndicate which is stronger than the law. There is a beautiful romance running through the piece, while the way in which the methods of the grafter are shown up is particularly striking.

Besides this great picture there is a great five-act Universal drama featuring Hobart Bosworth. This play is entitled "Colorado" and is a thrilling mining drama of the west. The concluding scenes are intensely dramatic while the entire piece is full of lively action.

"THE YANKEE GIRL" AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

There is a particularly bright five-reel Paramount production at the Majestic tonight in "The Yankee Girl," in which the famous movie artist Blanch Bing takes the leading part. This is one of the most pleasing photoplays ever produced by this famous company. The entire five reels are bright and full of lively action, while the staging is of the finest.

There is also an Eclair War Gazette, which is top-notch as usual. On Friday and Saturday this house presents Marie Doro in "The White Pearl."
