DUBLIN INSURGENTS HAVE SURRENDERED

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED ARRESTED -- GERMANS AGAIN DEFEATED NEAR VERDUN

REBEL LEADERS IN DUBLIN HAVE SURRENDERED

Pearce and Connolly wounded and Prisoners—Dedmond Denounces
Rebellion—Germany Timed
Move Carefully.

(Special to The Daily News.)

London, May 1.—An official announcement has been made that all the rebel leaders in Dublin have surrendered. An order was issued by "Provisional President" Pearce, who is now wounded and a prisoner, advising a general surrender. "General" Connolly, the military head of the rebels, is also wounded and a prisoner.

Seven hundred and seven rebels were arrested yesterday in the Royal College of Surgeons Building. Amongst these was the Countess Markievicz, who is alleged to have killed a soldier at the outbreak of the rebellion. Many of the prisoners wore green uniforms.

The rebels are now piling their arms at the foot of the Parnell monument on Sackville street.

The Irish soldiers are very bitter at the rebels. John Dedmond, the Nationalist leader, denounces the movement as an attempt to torpedo Home Rule.

The Vice-Roy says that the movement was timed by Germany so as to prevent British troops being sent to reinforce the Allies for the spring offensive on the western front. The damage done during the struggle is estimated at two million pounds.

EIGHTEEN SCHOONERS ARE IN WITH HALIBUT

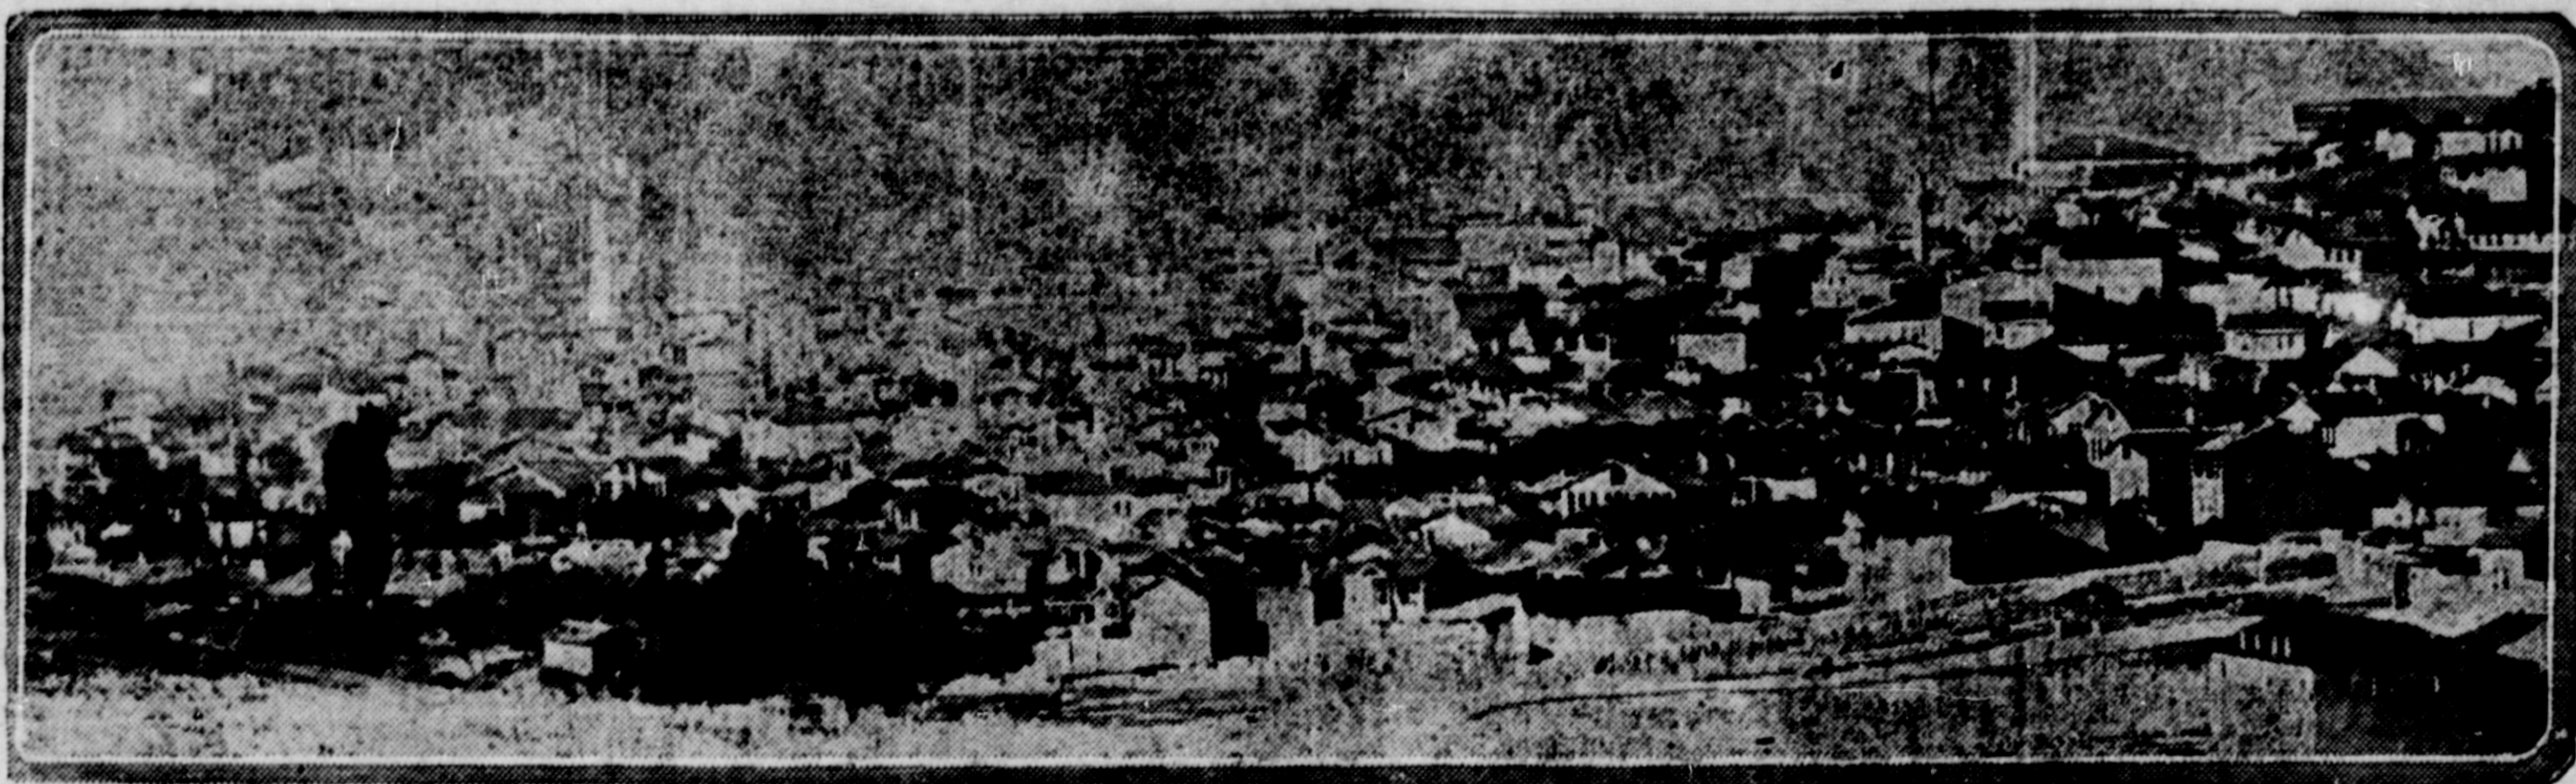

Between Saturday evening and Sunday noon eighteen halibut schooners brought in about a quarter of a million pounds of halibut between them, and all day yesterday the government wharf and the wharf at the Cold Storage were scenes of the liveliest activity.

The following were the fares of the boats: Lister, 20,000; Magnolia, 3,000; Roald Amundsen, 15,000; Glacier, 16,000; Borealis, 30,000; Star, 18,000; Zorra, 5,000; Chief Skugaid, 30,000; Dorreen, 8,000; Alvilda, 11,000; Valhalla, 12,000; Rolfe, 13,000; Cora, 8,000; Grier Starrett, 14,000; Lillian S., 6,000; Nautilus, 3,000, and the Unity, 4,000 pounds.

The Atlin Company paid 10% cents for the fare of the Lister Saturday night, but as boats began to come along in big numbers on Sunday morning, the price dropped to 8% and 8% cents.

INDIAN WOMAN IS BRUTALLY MURDERED

(Special to The Daily News.)

Vancouver, May 1.—Rosie Wilson, an Indian woman aged 35, was hacked to death with an axe in a cabin on Alexander Street. Her companion, Mary Cole, gave the alarm four hours later charging Cecille Aquirre, a Peruvian laborer, with the crime.

Aquirre was arrested, but later, under questioning, the woman Cole admitted she killed the Wilson woman herself in a drunken quarrel over the cooking of dinner. Both prisoners have been held in custody. This is the fourth murder which has been committed within two hundred yards of this cabin in eight years.

ANOTHER FISH CONCERN IS ESTABLISHED HERE

The Goletas Fish Company, of Vancouver, the proprietors of the cannery at Shushartie Bay, have rented space on the government wharf for the handling of their halibut business. Mr. Payson, who represents the company here, made his first shipment today, having bought the fares of the schooners Nautilus and Unity which came in yesterday.

STRIKE DECLARED ON ALICE ARM ROADWORK

S. D. Macdonald, president of the Trades and Labor Council, has received a wire that a strike has been declared on the roadwork at Alice Arm, there being a complete cessation of all work.

THOMAS' REPRESENTATIVE PASSED THROUGH TODAY

Charles F. Law, who represents the Thomas interests in this country, arrived from the south last night and left for Kitsumkalum Lake this morning. As was reported in The Daily News some time ago, D. A. Thomas, now Lord Rhondda, is largely interested in gold mining property at the lake. After making arrangements for the taking over of some more claims around Kitsumkalum Mr. Law will proceed into the Peace River country.

AFTER THE WAR—WHAT?

Ottawa, April 29.—While most of the legislators are discussing the Borden government After Sir Sam Let's Go, two or three of the wise ones, including George Grafton, Turiff and Macdonald of Pictou, have broached another subject even more important—Canada After The War, or The Backwash Will Catch You if You Don't Watch Out.

The Major-General's case makes a big noise now but graver questions knock at the door and his name suggests them. George Graham laid his finger on one of them when he pointed out that great care must be taken if this country, after the war, is not to be diverted from its love of peaceful pursuits. There are three hundred thousand men under arms now, with a possibility of two hundred thousand more being added if the war lasts beyond this year. When this great body of opinion in khaki is asked to resume the humdrum routine of peace what will it reply?

Roughly speaking it will reply in two ways. Those who have fought the Germans and seen the horrors of war will be glad to forget the awful experience and will be more or less satisfied to get back into the jog trot of orderly civilization. Never again—that is the sentiment of your citizen soldier who has once been through the hell men call war. Those who have been in khaki, but who have not had a chance to fight the Germans are another story. It is not unlikely that their untired hearts will still harbor a lot of martial fire and that those who want them to beat their swords into ploughshares will find them harder to argue with than the brave fellows who have been up against the real thing.

The courage of those who have fought and those who didn't, get a chance to fight may be taken as equal—they are all eager to serve King and country—but those who fought are sadder, wiser men for their dreadful experience and are more apt to reason than those who never came to grips with the enemy. Close observers of the recruiting cannot fail to have remarked how few of the Canadian South African veterans enlisted for this war. They had earned their release. Once was enough.

George Graham's fears probably have more to do with those who have taught war and never felt it than with those who have actually waged it. Once a soldier has learned through pain of body and stress of soul and the evidence of his eyes and the anguish of his heart what an awful curse war is, he can never have too much peace afterwards. He becomes the most useful citizen any country can have. Some of the most prosperous parts of Canada are those settled by old soldiers, who after a manhood of war's alarms, were glad enough to go back on the land, that refuge of tempered spirits, the good brown earth which spells contentment, happiness, fatness and which is the real strength of nations.

But the soldier has to be convinced first. Until the price of war in blood and tears and material treasure is realized he may have mistaken ideas as to the glory of the dreadful thing. It is these half-aroused heroes who will be confronted after the war, as George Graham points out, by a school of thought which will advocate the maintenance of an armed camp in Canada. This school of thought may be expected to do a lot of talking. The finance minister hinted at it not long ago when he warned parliament that it would be a considerable time before Canada could reduce her army to a peace footing and make the social and industrial readjustments for five hundred thousand men suddenly turned back on the country. Canada has for the time being, been forced into militarism—that is to say it has a wolf by the ears and it is hard to let go. George Graham's suggestions are simply along the line of making it easier to chase the wolf back to the woods by discouraging those who would keep the wild beast in our midst. Preparedness, yes—adequate preparedness—George Graham believes heartily in that but not preparedness to the extent of hampering a sane distribution of our national activities in other directions.

George Graham is no pessimist. He believes that prosperity, development, increased population are in store for Canada after the war, a population, not so many years away, of fifteen millions

GERMANS AGAIN DEFEATED WITH HEAVY LOSSES

Dense Masses Attacked Positions on Deadman's Hill—Enemy Losses Enormous—British Repel Gas Attack.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, May 1.—The German troops in dense masses made their expected attack last night on the positions captured by the French north of Deadman's Hill.

The attack was defeated, the German losses being enormous. The German attackers on the Cumieres positions were also repulsed.

Aerial Fights.

French aviators brought down four Fokkers and three other German aeroplanes yesterday without sustaining any loss.

One aviator brought down two Fokkers at a height of 1,500 metres over the German lines at Royes.

Germans Mowed Down.

The Germans made a gas attack along a two thousand yard British front at Messines, but were defeated. The British artillery mowed down the advancing Germans.

Townshend's Surrender.

The Turkish statement shows that four generals, 240 British officers and 270 Indian officers were taken prisoner at Kut-El-Amara. The Turk commander, Halil Pasha, permitted General Townshend to retain his sword as a token of his brave defence.

MORE LOOTING IS ALLEGED IN B. C.

The following is from the Nanaimo Free Press:

"Now that the wrecked Quadra has been successfully refloated, and will no doubt before long be in commission again, it would be interesting to know just what price was paid for her before salvage operations were begun. No particulars as to the price have ever been divulged, but we have heard it stated on good authority that she was actually sold to the B. C. Salvage Co. for the absurdly low figure of $2,300. If this is correct it is nothing short of scandalous."

The Free Press goes on to say that there was no request for tenders, though many firms were anxious to bid for the purchase of the vessel, and demands that there be an immediate and searching investigation into the whole transaction.

The winches alone must have been worth more than was paid for the whole ship and, as she is today, the Quadra must be worth many times what the B. C. Salvage Company paid for her.
