VERDUN

If the report from Milan of mutiny amongst German troops at Verdun is correct, there is every reason to believe that the end is clearly in sight. In spite of the strict German censorship with its false reports to Berlin for public consumption, there is bound to be news of the real state of affairs leak through to the people of Germany. The censor cannot control the tongue of a wounded soldier, who has been horror-struck by what has occurred before the great French fortress during the past few weeks, and it is bound to have its effect upon public opinion in Germany.

The Verdun attack was the most carefully planned of all the German efforts and it has been the most utter failure. The French artillery has been far superior to that of the enemy, while the machine guns of the French have played deadly havoc with the hordes of advancing Germans. Deadly bayonet work at close quarters has completed the terrible tale of death.

To the layman, the outstanding feature of the attack has been its hopeless stupidity. Thousands upon thousands of German soldiers have been marched up to the mouths of the French guns only to be mowed down. Disaster has followed disaster, still the same tactics have been kept up with little variation. Had the Kaiser been a madman seeking to find out how many men could be slaughtered by a certain number of guns in a given time, he could not have brought about greater slaughter. Had the Allied leaders had a choice as to the German method and place of attack, they could not have chosen better than Verdun and the methods adopted.

"MR. KELLY'S" FUTURE

Is it true that "Mr. Kelly" is slated for some high post of honor and emolument in the gift of the government? This query is suggested by the deference paid to that personage by the chairman of the committee inquiring into the Vancouver by-election. "Will you be here many days, Mr. Kelly?" he ingratiatingly asked. Now, if high destiny had not plainly set its seal upon that inimitable individual the chairman of this select committee of the legislature of the great province of British Columbia would have said peremptorily, "We shall need you here for a few days, Kelly, so don't leave town. If you do we will bring you back." Instead, the committee waits upon "Kelly's" pleasure. Thus it is evident that "Mr. Kelly" is about to become a power in the land and we can realise afresh the significance of his remark that he came here to give evidence to prevent a "lot of good fellows from going out of business." What is he going to be? The cabinet still has two vacancies, including the important portfolio of finance, which, by the way, is going to spend two dollars this year for every dollar for revenue, right in the Hon. "J. J. Kelly's" line. Or there is the chairmanship of the commission to administer the workmen's compensation act. In any case we feel that something is coming to the Rt. Hon. "J. J. Kelly" before long. The chairman's deference can mean nothing else.—Victoria Times.

What Does Your Food Cost? You could easily spend two dollars for a meal and not get as much real, body-building nutriment as you get in two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, the food that contains all the muscle-making material in the whole wheat grain prepared in a digestible form. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk or cream will make a complete, perfect meal at a cost of not over five cents. A food for youngsters and grown-ups. Eat it for breakfast with milk or cream; eat it for luncheon with fresh berries or other fruits; a perfect meal for the Spring days.

Made in Canada.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Bowser has intimated that he will appoint H. B. Thomson as Minister of Finance, after the session closes. He was unkind enough to state that Mr. Thomson was his first choice for the portfolio anyhow. To Flumerfelt this must sound like adding insult to injury.

How careful the premier has been that he did not nominate a Minister of Finance during the session. That would have entailed another by-election and Bowser thinks by-elections are no good anyway.

Colonel Carnegie is having a long spell on the stand in the "shell" enquiry, but he seems to enjoy telling how Sir Sam kept their spirits up with tales of South Africa.

It must have been inspiring to General Bertram and Colonel Carnegie and the other "officers" to listen to accounts of how Sam won the South African war.

Now don't be alarmed, Bill Manson has not enlisted in the

MISS KLIPPERT WON
OLD INDIAN CURIO

The hand-carved rattle, presented to the Red Cross Society by the Naas Indians, was drawn for on Saturday evening at Morte Craig's studio. The tickets were shaken up by Acting Mayor Nelson and F. W. Doherty, manager of the Royal Bank, made the drawing. The winner was Miss E. S. Klippert, the teacher at Metlakatlah who held a large number of tickets for the curio. The rattle, which is beautifully carved, was formerly used on ceremonial occasions by the Indians and was very highly valued.
