THE CARE OF A PIANO

If an artist or cultivated musical amateur has a piano he will naturally keep it or have it kept in good tune.

This applies with even greater force to the person who is beginning to form a taste for music. There is no more serious mistake than to imagine that any piano is good enough to practice on.

Have G. C. Walker, piano tuner, attend to its needs by the year - all work guaranteed.

THE WESTERN UNIVERSI-TIES BATTALION NEEDS FIFTY MORE MEN TO COM-PLETE THE ESTABLISH-MENT.

THOUGHTFUL MEN OF EDUCATION

Leaders in the community should help the cause, by impressing upon the public the need for men, and the common duty. There is only one convincing way to do this,-by EN-LISTING YOURSELF.

A DOUBLE SERVICE!

You not only give your own service to the nation, but incite others by your example. You have no future, your dependents have nothing to live for, if Germany wins. Dare you take any chance in such a matter? The greater the number of men available for service, the shorter the war, and the fewer the losses. You owe it to yourself, your country, and the boys at the front, to act at
