FUSE PROFITS

Now that the fuse enquiry is closed and all that is to come is the finding of the Commissioners, it may be not out of place to review the chief points brought out in the evidence. The fact that Colonel Allison and his friends netted a commission of $1,000,000 on the contract let to the American Ammunition Company is fully admitted, and the fact that Allison, the close friend and trusted adviser of Sir Sam Hughes, should have shared in any such huge commission was reason enough in itself for the holding of an enquiry. It is ridiculous to suggest that this sum was ever earned by these gentlemen.

One other outstanding feature was the letting of a contract for fuse fuses at $4.00 each to a mushroom Allison company without giving Canadian or legitimate American firms an opportunity to tender. The price of $4 was given, in spite of the fact that fuse fuses were being manufactured at the time for $2.40 by Cadwell, the man who really undertook the work, assumed all responsibility and shared a million dollars' commission with Youkum, Allison and Besick. Fuse fuses are now being made for $2.00 each, exactly half the price paid to the Allison outfit.

In his summing up of the evidence, Fred. Carvell, K. C., said that the minister of militia had connived at and endorsed the taking of a huge commission by Allison, this money being stolen practically from the British treasury. It is clear that Allison did not appear in the deals until the British war office ordered fuse fuses. These fuses, being of simple construction, can be manufactured cheaply, but Allison stepped in and grabbed the contract at $4.00 each, a price which would have been adequate for time fuses. The price of $4.00 was fixed without making any enquiry.

Hughes claimed that Allison brought prices down, but the evidence shows that Allison got two prices for fuse fuses, and, on the face of it, Allison's interests lay in keeping prices up, as in that lay his opportunity to make profits, and making profits on every possible occasion or excuse was his long suite.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The Germans will now consider that the Baltic is just as unsafe and uncomfortable as the North Sea and that the Kiel Canal is the only place in the world worth living in.

Vancouver and Victoria stores will now close on Saturday afternoons. The Saturday half-holiday has proved a success for years in Australia and no doubt it has come to stay in B. C.

King Constantine is already figuring that "discretion is the better part of valor." Venizelos may yet be president of a Greek republic.

Again there is talk of Rumania coming in. She is taking a long time to make up her mind, and every day it becomes more apparent that she doesn't unless she really wants to.

In the town of Aalesund, in Norway, there used to be a flourishing Socialist paper. The great rush of prosperity in Norway as a result of the war has put such a crimp in Socialism that the paper has gone out of business. Everybody in Aalesund is evidently more or less of a capitalist these days.

The women of Austria seem to be carrying on a miniature civil war against the war. If the women of Germany and Austria ever get the vote there will be no war for the Central Powers for many a long day.

Better Muscle, Better Work

the power to do things comes from food that supplies the greatest amount of strength-giving nutriment with the least tax upon the digestive organs. Shredded Wheat Biscuit contains all the muscle-making material in the whole wheat grain—the most perfect food given to man—made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. Contains more real nutriment than meat or eggs and costs much less. Being ready-cooked and ready-to-serve, it is the ideal Summer food. Delicious for breakfast, for luncheon or any meal with milk or cream, or with fresh fruits.

THE LOVE ROUTE AT WESTHOLME TONIGHT

"Men and Men," featuring Marguerite Clark, was to have been the big item in the Westholme show tonight and tomorrow, but Mr. Harvey has received notice that this great picture had been delayed in shipment. It will be here on June 23rd.

Tonight and tomorrow there will be a five-act Famous Players' drama entitled "The Love Route." This is a most pleasing production. There will also be a good Essanay comedy and a Selig Tribune Weekly of the latest world's news. Owing to the Bowser meeting on Saturday night, there will be only one show, beginning at 7 p. m.

The halibut arrivals yesterday were light. The Peggie had 8,000 and the Glacier, 10,000 pounds. The Cold Storage bought both fares.
