CALLING THE PREMIER

Is the Prime Minister of Canada asleep? Are his Cabinet Ministers away from home, or are they helpless, or are they merely stupid? Is there no one about Ottawa who will arouse Sir Robert Borden and his colleagues to a sense of conditions in military affairs that are rapidly converging to a crisis? Are they all so dull, or so self-satisfied, as not to see that all over Canada, and especially in Ontario, the people who know at firsthand the recruiting situation, and particularly know it is handicapped by the Militia Department from the Minister down, are becoming almost rebellious in their indignation? Cannot Premier Borden be made to understand that this is no time for merely "holding down a job"? and that he must either tackle the Militia administration himself or appoint a recruiting director with brains enough to understand the problem, authority enough to do the essential things, and power enough to prevent or to repair the damage done by Sir Sam Hughes and his arrogant insults to men who are sacrificing their all, both in money and in service, for the good of the regiments?

In the regular and ordinary administration of the affairs of the Militia, the Department at Ottawa has failed and fallen down at every point—yes, at every point. In the arduous work of recruiting, the officers in charge have been hindered instead of helped by the officials in the Department. Wherever he goes the Minister by his cheap affectation of contempt for law and precedent, and, as at London last week, by his unpardonable and offensive rebukes to the officers in the presence and hearing of their regiments, makes the task of recruiting and of discipline needlessly difficult.

Not only are officers of the highest equipment and of unblemished personal character insulted by the lawless and undisciplined Minister of Militia, but other officers, whose characters are openly scandalous and whose conduct has been condemned, are retained in high command in defiance of all the interests involved, both moral and military. A notorious case of this sort developed in Toronto, crammed with all the elements of a public scandal. A battalion was sent overseas a fortnight ago, and a large number of both officers and men were in a mutinous mood against their Colonel, whose conduct had been the subject of secret investigation by a Court of Inquiry. The facts, as known to many friends of the officers and men of the battalion, were laid before the Premier. He promised much, but did nothing.

It is high time this boasting by the Premier and by the Minister of Militia about what has been done in raising Canada's army utterly ceased. The fact is, the raising of the regiments, in nearly every instance, was retarded by the Government's negligence, rather than promoted by the Government's aid. It was the officers and local friends who did the work and provided most of the necessary funds. The point has now been reached when there is threatening an outbreak of public indignation unless the Premier plays the Premier part and rids the country of the obstacles which the Department of Militia puts in the way. The people call the Premier.—Toronto Globe.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Henry Ford has evidently decided that he cannot stop this war and that the best he can do is to hold a conference after the war is over with a view to preventing war in future. Henry is much safer when he is dealing with futures.

The following are required:—Blacksmiths, bricklayers, carpenters, clerks, coopers, architectural draughtsmen, electricians, engineers, fitters and turners, harness makers, masons, painters, plasterers, plumbers, shoemakers, surveyors, tailors, plate layers, etc. Apply to Mayor J. Eades Ward, C. O. 6th Field Company, C. E., North Vancouver.

ings at Camp Hughes. The breeze was probably caused by the approach of Sir Sam on his western tour.

"The Liberal party has done more for you out of power than the Conservative party in," said H. C. Brewster at Vancouver on Tuesday.

"It will be a long day before any Bowser henchman gets a square look at my back," said M. A. Macdonald on Tuesday night.

M. A. Macdonald, in a great fighting speech at Vancouver on Tuesday, dealt trenchantly with the attempt of the Bowser machine to besmirch his character. He assured his audience that the truth of the matter would be brought out whether it took weeks, months or years.

Macdonald describes Bowser as the head of the Department of Injustice. Judging by the conduct of the various investigations in the south this is no misnomer.

BREWSTER AND MACDONALD OPEN LIBERAL CAMPAIGN

ardly and dastardly attempt to besmirch my reputation with the aid of paid thugs and perjured hirelings from a neighboring city under the tutelage of John L. Sullivan, I do so not by way of defence, but by way of attack on the men and the machine responsible for this villainy. The day will never come when this organization against which I have fought since 1909 will place me on the defensive (applause).

After declaring most emphatically that he had always stood, and would always stand for clean government, Mr. Macdonald went on to show how little sincerity there was in the government talk of clean elections, instancing the turning down by the machine of Mr. Brewster's amendment to make all voters sign their names. He next referred to the campaign of lies carried on by the hand-fed Tory press. He described Bowser as a man who would stop at nothing to gain his ends, and what he is not willing to do himself, Ernest Miller, of Grand Forks is willing to accomplish. He went on to show how the Tories had practised personation at elections all over the province. In Cranbrook in 1909, when one man confessed to voting seven times for the McBride-Bowser government; in Fernie where Thomas Whelan, who was very active in the Vancouver by-election, confessed to voting twice for W. R. Ross. The Liberals had proof of twenty other cases. "Did you hear any outcry then from Bowser that these practices were corrupt and wicked and must be stopped?" asked Mr. Macdonald. The evidence in the Vancouver case showed that Sullivan and the leading Conservatives of the machine had a complete understanding and knew all about the arrangements for the bringing in of the "pluggers." Ernest Miller summed up the situation after the election by saying that "someone threw a monkey wrench into their machine."

In dealing with Scott, he said that Scott was paid for going legitimate work and never did any other kind of work for the Liberals. If Scott did any crooked work, he was paid to do so by someone outside of the Liberal party, and even if it took months or years the truth as to who paid the money would be discovered.

Mr. Macdonald concluded a most able speech by recounting the instances in which the public money had been squandered wantonly by the Bowser government. $7,000,000 had been handed over to the P. G. E. with the utmost
