CONSTANCE COLLIER'S BIG HIT AT THE MAJESTIC

Constance Collier drew a crowded house at the Majestic last night and the verdict was "the finest ever." "The Tongues of Men" is without doubt one of the most magnificently staged features seen here, while the work of Constance Collier and her strong support is delightful. The famous star plays the part of Jane Bartlett, a prima donna in the opera "Zaporah." Rev. Dr.
Sturgis, a serious young churchman, takes exception to one of the scenes and preaches a sermon denouncing it. Jane Bartlett sets to work to make the parson eat his sermon to the last word and she succeeds admirably, even to having Sturgis asking her to marry him, in spite of the fact that he is engaged to the vicar's daughter. There are many highly amusing episodes throughout the play, one of the best being an interview between the actress and two staid old churchmen who have gone to her to demand that she hand back their curate. The old vicar is a most lovable old fellow who provides lots of quiet fun.
This play is undoubtedly a masterpiece and should not be missed.
A rural comedy and a fine clair Gazette completes the bill.
Last but not least is the music.
Last night, "William Tell" was rendered in splendid style as was also a selection from Faust and another from Rigoletto.
