"THE OLD HOMESTEAD" AT THE MAJESTIC THEATRE

"The Old Homestead," the rural classic which has captivated the hearts of all Americans for the last thirty years, is just as delightful on the screen as it is on the stage. The Famous Players production, which runs to six reels at the Majestic tonight, has all the pathos and good old-fashioned comedy of the original play, while it has the added quality of natural surroundings. Viewing this famous play on the stage, one never loses sight of the fact that it is staged, whereas the film scenes are just naturally the real thing. Josh Whitcomb, Cy Perkins and Rickety Ann are not on the stage but living out their simple lives at the real old homestead, the pictures being actually taken at the old Thompson home in New Hampshire. Every minute of the six reels is thoroughly enjoyable; the music is of the best and the rest of the pictures good.

Dr. J. L. Campbell, one of Canada's most famous preachers, will speak in the Empress Theatre tonight.
