Germany's expectations of victory are completely shattered and hundreds of German soldiers are marching into British territory exclaiming, "Comrades, we surrender."

The general situation on the western front is unchanged, the French and British being busy consolidating the ground gained over the weekend. The Allied troops now occupy commanding positions on the road to Bapaume.

RAILWAY EXECUTIVES OPPOSED TO WILSON

(Special to The Daily News.)

Washington, August 22.—The railway executives are opposed to President Wilson's proposals for the prevention of the threatened general railway strike. The chief difficulty is over the President's endorsement of the eight-hour day, which the railway managers insist is not feasible. The managers have convened to prepare their answer to Wilson.

The general opinion is that the railway managers will accept Wilson's proposals, if the President stands firm. The railroad magnates do not want a strike which would tie up the whole country, but are anxious to make a settlement on the best terms possible.

CAMP BORDEN STILL CAUSING BIG TROUBLE

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—Camp Borden, which represents another million of the people's money thrown to the birds, continues to be the government's nightmare. Things there are getting no better fast. Cheer up, the worst is yet to come.

Sir Sam's impulsiveness in hustling thirty-two thousand soldiers into a half-finished camp so that he could hold a review for the moving pictures, is causing the Militia Department, the Headquarters Staff and the Camp Borden authorities a great deal of trouble.

A well defined rumor is afloat that Brigadier General Logie is to be "promoted" overseas, a sort of Irish promotion. If Brigadier General Logie is thus "promoted" to a position of splendid idleness in England, it will be because somebody has to act as goat for Sir Sam's mistakes.

Of course, Sir Sam is not responsible for the fervent heat of July and August, a heat which burned up all previous records, but he is responsible for his own vanity which causes him to crowd an army into the hottest spot he could find in the hottest months in forty-five years.

Camp Borden is no more acceptable to the soldiers now than it was a month ago, when the first riot took place. First riot? Has there been another then? Yes. It occurred not long ago and was a very nasty affair. The Camp Borden correspondents were persuaded or censored out of saying anything about it, and when it did filter through to the newspaper offices, considerations of public policy held it up there. However, such is the fact. Two riots in two months—that's going some, eh?

At present Camp Borden is getting along on something less than half strength. There are not enough men there to go through the big brigade movements, which was one of the alleged objects in shifting the men there from the other smaller camps. There are seventeen hundred men absent without leave, and a provost marshal has been appointed to locate them and round them up. He has about as practical a job as might be sweeping up all the leaves that fall in Ontario next autumn. There are some seven thousand men absent on leave and these seven thousand absent on leave represent another part of the price discipline pays for Sir Sam's folly.

Leave is an easy thing to get at Camp Borden. The soldiers openly boast that all they have to do is ask for it. Many soldiers will be found who claim to have had three day week-end leaves for three weeks running. The spirit of discontent must be soothed some way and the easiest plan is to let the men go visiting. Overstayed leaves are treated leniently. Almost any excuse for coming back late will be accepted and excuses that are too thin to

GREAT ALLIED CAMPAIGN ON BALKAN FRONT

Italians Sending Forces to Join Saloniki Army—Portugal Preparing to Join the Allies.

(Special to The Daily News.)

Paris, Aug. 22.—Italian forces are reported to be linking up with the seven hundred thousand French, British and Serbian reinforcements which are being sent to Saloniki following the inauguration of hostilities.

The fact that such a large number of reinforcements are being sent to the Balkan front indicates that the Allies are embarking upon a campaign of the most extensive proportions.

Portugal Also.

Preparation for Portugal's active participation in the war on the side of the Allies is being made and a Franco-British mission is leaving shortly to co-operate with the Portuguese authorities. It will be remembered that Portugal issued mobilization orders last March and it is a well known fact that, since that time, the Portuguese army has been in training for the campaign.
