DOUBLE FEATURE AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

There is a double attraction at the Westholme tonight when Helen Holmes appears in the 8th episode of "The Girl and the Game," and the Mutual Masterpiece five-act feature "Powder" is screened. The locomotive used in the railroad film is the largest ever built, being 80 feet long and weighing 450,000. Helen Holmes was the first person to drive this steam monster at full speed. "Powder" is the story of a munition maker who is approached by two warring nations with a view to buying his shells. It turns out that both countries use his shells and the irony of it is that his own son is killed by one of them. The father is overwhelmed by a feeling of guilt in that his commercialism led to his son's death. A Mutual Weekly completes a good show.
