MARIE DORO AT THE WESTHOLME THEATRE

There was a crowded house at the Westholme Theatre last night, when Marie Doro made her first appearance as a Lasky star, and all must have been charmed by the work of this bright little actress. As Norah Flynn, an Irish nurse girl, Miss Doro is splendid, particularly in the closing scenes where she is shown taking farewell of her little charges, whose mother she has saved from disaster. A feature of this drama is the acting of two remarkably clever children, who, with Miss Doro, form the central group in the closing stages. A Gaumont Graphic, showing the King reviewing troops; Sam Hughes inspecting the Canadians, and the unveiling of the Kitchener Memorial, completes a very fine show, in which the music is one of the most pleasing features.

A CURIOUS CASE

A curious case is interesting the doctors at a military hospital near London. A man who has been stricken dumb has been made to speak under an anaesthetic, but efforts to induce speech as the ether ceases to have effect have so far failed. The doctors, too, are somewhat puzzled as to whether the man has any recollection of talking during the experiment, for on "coming round" once he replied to the doctor's continued questions by knocking him down!—Exchange.
