SIR SAM RESIGNS

In requesting the resignation of Lieutenant-General Sir Sam Hughes, Premier Borden has performed his greatest feat since taking office in 1911.

If Sir Robert Borden was at fault in admitting Sir Sam to the cabinet, he was still more at fault in allowing him to remain there.

colonels was a sign of grave weakness in a military leader. While he did his best to build up a Canadian army, he also built up an army of non-fighting colonels which became a nuisance both in Canada and in London.

Though the request for his resignation came about through a sharp difference of opinion between himself and the Premier, it is simply the climax to an impossible situation.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Though Sir Sam's resignation has come as the result of a letter written on November 1st, it has been apparent for some time that

"Beans Is Beans"

—and the cost is soaring skyward with pork, beef, eggs and other foods until the cost of living represents an increase of from 30 to 50 per cent. While meats and vegetables are beyond the reach of many millions of families, Shredded Wheat Biscuit continues to sell at the same old price and retains the same high nutritive quality.

Made in Canada

there was a game of checkers on. The appointment of McCurdy to the militia department was the first move and that has been followed up by other important changes in London.

There seems to be nothing left for Sir Sam to do but to take a command in Sir Sam's Own Kilties and proceed to the front.

Now that the elections are over, President Wilson may take a slightly different view of the submarine situation. He now knows more clearly than ever he did what a very large proportion of the people of the United States think about it.

Another "impregnable" German position on the Somme front has fallen to the British. The Germans must be beginning to realize that, today, no position is impregnable and that the term is merely comparative.

The feature of the Macedonian campaign is the great work being done by the Serbians. This gallant nation has "come back" in great style and they will yet have the satisfaction of being largely instrumental in driving the invader from Serbia.

Sunlight Soap

cuts Monday's labor clean in half.

The Sunlight way is so easy—just note. First you soap the garment; then roll it up to soak. After a while you rinse it thoroughly and the dirt drops out like magic.

Why scrub, and rub, and wear and tear the clothes when the gentle strength of Sunlight Soap will do the work with never a hurt to fabric or hands.

Try it once—this Sunlight way.
