Are The Four Fruits Used in Making "Fruit-a-tives"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the only medicine in the world that is made from the juices of fresh ripe fruits. Thus, it is manifestly unfair to say, "I won't take Fruit-a-tives because I have tried other remedies and they did me no good". On the other hand, the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" is entirely different from any other preparation in the world, is just why you should give it a fair trial, in any trouble of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys or Skin. "Fruit-a-tives" is composed of the active principle of fruit and the greatest nerve tonic ever discovered. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CONTINENTAL TRUST CASE RESUMED TODAY

wanted to get out of his agreement. He admitted that the statement provided by Hobin and Peterson showed the company to be quite solvent. He did not remember asking Hobin how much money he thought would be necessary per month to carry the business along. "Are you clear that you did not ask such a question?" asked Mr. Williams. "No, I am not," was the reply. He remembered Mr. Hobin saying what the expenses per month amounted to. "Was it not considered the case that the $3,000 was the amount necessary for the protection of the company at the time?" That was his conclusion. He admitted that the statement provided by Hobin and Peterson was clear and that he was satisfied with the answers given to his questions. "You purchased $11,000 worth of stock in the company for $2,000?" "Yes," replied the witness. "From the price paid for the stock, did it not strike you that the company was not very strong?" He replied that he was quite satisfied. "Did you not consider that the stock had no real value, so far as dividends were concerned?" He considered that the stock was worth $2,000. "Did you place a separate value on the stock and the charter?" Witness replied that the two went together.

"Did you prepare a stock-selling pamphlet?" asked Mr. Williams. He replied that he might have done so at a later date. "Did you or did you not?" asked counsel. "I might have done so," was the answer. Mr. Williams produced a stock-selling pamphlet, which Mr. Steers objected to as evidence, as he had not seen it before. His Lordship reminded Mr. Steers that he could examine it now. Witness then contended that his name was used on the pamphlet by his partner Wilson, and afterwards admitted that he permitted his name to be used. "The defendants made no other representations to you, further than those contained in the statements provided?" asked counsel. "No," was the reply.

Harry W. Leyens, a financial agent in Vancouver was then called. He testified to McGregor's coming to him in regard to the Continental Trust Company, with a view to getting him to take an interest in it. He said that he met Mr. McCaffery in Vancouver and asked Mr. McCaffery as to the affairs of the concern. Mr. McCaffery said that if Mr. Leyens was interested he had better make a trip to Prince Rupert, where Mr. Hobin and Mr. Peterson would be able to provide him with full particulars as to the standing of the company. Along with Mr. McGregor, witness came to Prince Rupert and went into the affairs of the company and decided that he would not have anything to do with it. Witness admitted that the statement of assets and liabilities seemed all right. He discussed the placing of the company on a solid basis and in a conversation with Messrs Naden, Pattullo and McCaffery suggested that these three gentlemen put up notes for $1,000 each. Mr. Naden and Mr. McCaffery were willing to do this but Mr. Pattullo objected.

Cross-examined by Mr. Pattullo, witness denied that he and Mr. McGregor each offered at that time to put up $1,000, if the other gentlemen would do so. "You did not offer to buy $1,000 stock in the company?" Answer, "No." "You swear that you did not make such an offer?" asked Mr. Pattullo. "Yes," replied witness.

Cross-examined by Mr. Williams, witness said that Mr. McCaffery did not make any representations to him in Vancouver. "Did Mr. McCaffery make any representations to you in Prince Rupert?" asked counsel. "Not that I remember of," was the reply. He admitted that McGregor turned him over to Mr. Peterson when he wanted information, saying that Mr. Peterson understood the business better than he (McGregor) did.

E. D. Johnson was the first witness called for the defence. Mr. Johnson testified to having gone through the books of the company and that he found the financial statements compiled by Mr. Hobin and Mr. Peterson to be correct according to the books. He had carefully looked for any discrepancies but found that the figures in all the items followed in their natural sequence throughout the books of the company. From the books he considered that the company was solvent. He had gone into the balance sheets for the years 1913 and 1914 and found that the statement given to Mr. McGregor was correct. He was cross-examined by Mr. Steers.

C. B. Peterson was examined this morning as to the financial statement prepared from the books of the company and handed to Mr. McGregor.

2,000,000 Belgians Depend on us for Bread!

Since shortly after the German invasion, the Belgians have depended for food entirely on the "Commission for Relief in Belgium". Their own store of food, even if not destroyed or pillaged, would last only three weeks—they have had no chance to raise more—and the ruthless Germans refuse to supply them!

Backed by the

so generously contributed in the British Empire and the United States, the neutral Belgian Relief Commission has imported enough wheat, flour and other foods to feed the whole nation so far. The great majority of the 7,000,000 Belgians left in the country have been able to pay for their daily allowance of bread—but a steadily growing number have no money left.

Unless we are willing to let these hundreds of thousands of women, children and old men starve, they must be fed at the expense of the Belgian Relief Fund. To make this possible someone must contribute nearly $3,000,000 a month—every month—all this winter!

No people under the Allied Flags are as well able to contribute generously as we Canadians! No cause has ever been more deserving of help! In the name of Justice and Humanity—for the sake of our own self-respect—let us give all we can to help our martyred Allies!

Three Mighty Forces Close Linked

Have you ever noted how an audience yawns in the face of an uninspired speaker?

On the other hand, have you noted how an audience will lean forward and grasp the chair arms when the speaker reveals enthusiasm?

Enthusiasm is the buoyant expression of truth. To impart belief in anything, a man must believe it deeply himself. We call such a man an enthusiast.

This applies to the written word also—particularly to advertisements. When the manufacturer really believes in his wares, his enthusiasm will almost inevitably find expression in Advertising. And enthusiasm will be contagious—his audience—the readers of the newspaper—will, figuratively speaking, "lean forward and listen intently."

To be convincing an advertisement must convey an unmistakable impression of enthusiasm. This it will only do when the article advertised has inherent worth.

Thus we have:

Sincerity -- Enthusiasm -- Advertising:
Three mighty forces, close-linked.

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper. If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Laidman Building, Toronto.
