NORAH WATSON

Nov. 10th, 1915.

A beautiful complexion is a handsome woman's chief glory and the envy of her less fortunate rivals. Yet a soft, clear skin—glowing with health—is only the natural result of pure blood.

"I was troubled for a considerable time with a very unpleasant, disfiguring rash, which covered my face and for which I used applications and remedies without relief. After using 'Fruit-a-tives' for one week, the rash is completely gone. I am deeply thankful for the relief and in the future, I will not be without 'Fruit-a-tives'."

Coughing scatters germs —Stop it

Coughing increases the irritation of the already inflamed mucous membranes and is moreover apt to carry disease to others.

Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil promptly stops coughing, and soon, thanks to its tonic properties, effects a permanent cure.

The wonderful popularity of Mathieu's Syrup of Tar and Cod Liver Oil is specially due to its great value as a permanent lung and bronchial healer.

Sold everywhere, 35c large bottles.

The London press is sore because American papers have been allowed to publish pictures of the "tanks" while the old country papers are debarred from doing so. Lloyd George, in reply to a question in the house, says that the American pictures are not in the least like the real tanks. The cuts published on this side were made from drawings and not from photographs.

Doctors in Edmonton will be very careful after this as to who and why they give prescriptions for whisky. Drs. A. L. Campbell, J. Boulanger and J. J. McDougall have just been fined $75 each and costs for giving whisky orders where they were not required for medicinal purposes.

The London Times protests strongly against the building of Norwegian ships in Canada while Great Britain is not able to produce enough vessels for her own requirements.

Karl Graves, the so-called "international spy" is held on $20,000 bail in New York on a charge of attempting to blackmail Countess Von Bernstorff, wife of the German ambassador to the United States. Graves earned great notoriety in Britain some years ago, being arrested as a German spy and afterwards offering his services to the British Secret Service. He has filed an application for his papers as an American citizen.

Rosalind, Countess of Carlisle, has poured into the ground 1,500 bottles of valuable wine which had been stored in the cellars of Castle Howard in Yorkshire for thirty years. She was a temperance crank, and is now being severely scored by the British press, which claims that she should have sent the wine to the military hospitals.

LUMBERMEN WANTED

The British army requires lumber just as much as it requires munitions and there are many men in Canada who can do their share for the Empire by enlisting in the Forestry Battalions. Sergt. Stokes is at the Red Cross rooms recruiting for a new Forestry Battalion and blacksmiths, teamsters, chauffeurs, sawyers, filers, edgemens, fellers, laborers and anyone having a knowledge of lumbering will be welcomed to the ranks.

British Plantation Rubber Is Saving Canada Millions

Low Prices of Rubbers and Overshoes Due to Britain's Control of Situation

Here in Canada many of us have fallen into the truly Anglo-Saxon habit of considering the "Mother of Parliaments" slow and a bit behind the times. The present price of rubber, when its cause is revealed, affords one of the many proofs that such an opinion is away off the mark.

Thanks to great rubber plantations established, in the face of criticism and ridicule, many years before in her tropical Dominions, Great Britain at the outbreak of the war held a firm and tightening grip on the world's supply of raw rubber—a grip reinforced by her dominating navy. From 60% in 1914, the production of these plantations has grown this year to 75% of the whole world's output, leaving only about half the requirements of the United States alone to come from all other sources.

The result has been that the needs of the Allies, enormous though they are, have been plentifully supplied, while Germany has been reduced to registered mails and the "Deutschland" in desperate attempts to mitigate her rubber famine. Neutrals have been allowed all the rubber they want, at prices actually lower than before the war, so long as they prevent any of it from reaching the enemy, while Canada and other parts of the Empire have an abundant supply at equally favorable Government-regulated prices.

In this foresight and generosity of the British Government lies the reason why rubber alone, of all the great staples, has not gone up in price—why rubbers and overshoes, in spite of increased cost of fabric, chemicals and labor, are as inexpensive as ever, while shoes are costing several dollars a pair more. Wearing rubbers or overshoes through this winter to protect these expensive shoes is more than practical thrift—it is grateful patriotism, for in thus saving leather we make it easier for the Government to secure the absolutely necessary supplies of this alarmingly scarce material for our soldiers.

The Poor Man's University

"JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
