H. Gingras, of the Dominion government engineering staff, was amongst the south-going passengers this morning.

Sergeant Stokes sent three Forestry Battalion recruits south this morning. They were Frank Hill, Herb. Ashton and E. Moreau.

Anna Jensen arrived in the city last evening, having travelled all the way from Sweden with very little English in her vocabulary. She was met by Jen Jensen, of Anyox.

Call the Pony Express for wood cut in stove lengths or 4 feet. Best household coal and general transfer. Piano moving our specialty. Prices moderate. Phone 301, R. W. Rogers. tf.

Don. Peck, who spent the summer on a river steamer on Hudson Bay, returned to the city last evening. Don. was not much impressed by the outlook around Hudson Bay except as regards fur trading.

Lieut. W. A. Noble, who is now attached to the Bantams Battalion, left for the south this morning. "Art" is not likely to see his friends in Prince Rupert again for some time. That he will return home safe and sound will be the hope of all.

"Jack" was going around town this morning wearing a big smile, receiving the congratulations of his many friends on the arrival of what he understood to be a daughter. Along about 1 p. m. he was officially informed that it was a son. "Jack" is now in fear and trembling that the next official despatch may say "both"

WOMEN CREATORS OF FASHIONS IN FURS

Woman lovely woman—she is the creator of styles. She knows what she wants. If she fancies fox, that settles it—fox will go for sure. It's fox or nothing. This may seem strange to those who don't understand the feminine mind, nevertheless, it is a one best bet proposition. Women will follow a leader. Someone in the world of fashion and it may be a member of the nobility, a well known and popular woman of the stage or one of high fashionable society, springs a new stunt, her own idea or partly that of her furrier. She flashes it at some public function. If it takes, it is more contagious than the smallpox. In time, every woman in the civilized world wants the same thing. They don't all get it. Those who don't have the price, get the next best thing—an imitation.

By the way of illustration, says Mr. A. B. Shubert, president of A. B. Shubert, Inc., Chicago, (the largest house in the world dealing exclusively in American raw furs) I will cite a case, I was in Paris, August, 1913, and was shown by Mr. M. Geenwalt, of that city, (the one manufacturer of furs who has assisted in bringing out more novelties in ladies' furs than any living man) the first model of the now extremely fashionable animal scarf, made from choice silver fox for Madame Sarah Bernhardt, the great French actress. The fashionable world grabbed for it. The result was, the big demand for all kinds of foxes, fisher and the soft furred northern coyotes with the head attached.

The market has been cleared of all the above skins; high prices will prevail this coming raw fur season and will continue so long as the animal scarf remains fashionable. After that it will be something else. No one knows what, but it will be the thing that woman lovely woman, wants and not what the furrier is anxious to sell.

With fox in strong demand, and Coyotes—the imitation—a close second, trappers will obtain very high prices for their collections of these articles.

TITLED GENTLEMAN LIVED ON MONKEYS

Too proud to beg, and finding himself on the verge of starvation because of the impoverishment of his noble family in Europe, Count Franz Lazarini, a remittance man, well known in Central America, went to a jungle near Managua, Nicaragua, and kept himself alive for five months by eating monkey flesh, roots, and berries.

A party of United States marines, while on a big game hunting expedition, discovered the titled foreigner and brought him back to the capital.

The count, half-starved and mad because of the privations he had suffered, fought his rescuers and begged them to let him remain in the jungle. The marines overpowered him, however, and are now attempting to nurse him back to health.—EX.

ATTENTION VOTERS
 Persons who hold lots under agreement, or assignment of agreement, must make a declaration giving particulars of their title, before the last day of November. Any person neglecting to take such declaration will not be entered on the voters list.
 It is impossible for me to ascertain the names of agreement holders unless they come in personally.
 It will greatly facilitate matters if persons wishing to make declaration bring their agreements, so that I may inspect them and thus prevent errors.
 Reference to old voters' lists satisfies me that only a small proportion of agreement holders have registered in past years. This, I believe, has happened because people wrongly think their names will be inserted without any action on their part. I therefore call special attention to the necessity of agreement holders making declarations.
