Are The Four Fruits Used In Making "Fruit-a-tives"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" is the only medicine in the world that is made from the juices of fresh ripe fruits. Thus, it is manifestly unfair to say, "I won't take Fruit-a-tives because I have tried other remedies and they did me no good". On the other hand, the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" is entirely different from any other preparation in the world, is just why you should give it a fair trial, in any trouble of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels, Kidneys or Skin. "Fruit-a-tives" is composed of the active principle of fruit and the greatest nerve tonic ever discovered. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

In the Letter Box

Smithers, B. C., Dec. 18th. To the Editor of The News, Prince Rupert, B. C.

Dear Sir:—Probably the following account of the experiences of one of your local and well known residents will be of interest to Prince Rupert readers. Knowing George to be too modest to blow about it himself on his return, we think the incident worthy of recording and giving credit where credit belongs.

Mr. George Frizzell, of your city, has been spending a few days in our town, partly on business and partly on pleasure, had a very interesting experience yesterday and today is proclaimed a hero and a king of ingenuity.

While out tramping through the woods, supposedly looking for town lots, he ran suddenly up against a large timber wolf eyeing him with satisfaction. George stopped a minute when a brilliant idea flashed upon his mind, which he immediately acted upon. Having no gun, he broke off a small spruce tree to use as a club, and herded Mr. Wolf over a mile to town, drove him into the Bulkley Hotel stables, stuck a gasoline box in a ventilating hole, closed the door, went into the hotel, procured a gun and went out hunting. Being an expert shot of old time fame, the rest was easy.

If this had been a common coyote, or an honorary president of the Telkwa Board of Trade, or anything easy to find, we would not ask note to be made of it, but a wolf is a wolf and George is some hunter.

"A SMITHEREEN."

NATIONAL THANKSGIVING

To the Editor:—While the last Sunday in the year has been appointed a Day of National Prayer, it will be well if there is mingled with our prayers a note of thanksgiving to God for the good that has come out of the evil. For example, we should thank God for the high and disinterested motive which led Great Britain to enter upon this war even though now it may be a struggle for existence; for the welding together of the scattered parts of the British Empire; for the dying down of party strife in social, political and even church circles; for the spirit of self sacrifice which has animated so many of our men and women shown in life, labor and wealth freely given for a great cause; for the rising above material things and the gaining of a broader outlook; for the manifestation of practical sympathy for the sick, the wounded, and the bereaved; for the breaking up of many traditional customs and the shaking off of many old fetters, and the call to a greater simplicity of life; for the opening of our eyes to the danger of an exaggerated individualism and a new vision of the glory of our corporate life when we act together as ministering members of one great body.

Out of the grim and terrible struggle, out of the clash of arms and the shock of nations there will emerge a new order of things beyond our present conception if we only keep looking up for the gleam, and are willing to follow the Light of the World.

"There's a light about to break, There's a day about to dawn, Men of thought and men of action, clear the way."

Yours faithfully,

F. H. DU VERNET.

Bishop of Caledonia.

Fashion-Makers turn to Ancient Classics for Latest Models of Gowns.

A period of Grecian tendencies in fashion is prophesied by experts as a result of the entrance of Greece into the conflict in Europe. This gown is one of the first Grecian models to make its appearance in the United States. It is an evening dress of pink satin, trimmed with military gold braid cut in plain lines similar to the designs worn by the Greek dancers. This simplicity adds to its charm. From the shoulder to the belt is a flower line copied from the rose bowers affected by the peasants of Greece on fete days.

"Here's Where I Protect My Nine Dollar Investment."

Shoes are up 80% to 100% in price—and going higher. Rubbers cost practically the same as before the war. A good pair of shoes runs away with as much money as five to ten pairs of equally good rubbers.

Yet one of these pairs of rubbers, worn when needed, will make a pair of shoes last half as long again—perhaps twice as long—for nothing destroys shoe-leather like getting wet.

So the money spent in rubbers is returned several times over in the saving of shoes alone, and again in the prevention of colds and worse, with the attendant expense and danger.

Beyond these personal advantages, wearing rubbers is a patriotic duty. Leather is growing scarcer, while its need for the soldiers is as great or greater than ever. Every pair of shoes we save, by releasing that much leather, helps a bit toward winning the war.

The Poor Man's University

"JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."

If you are doing a local business talk over your advertising problems with the Advertising Department of this newspaper.

If you are doing a provincial or national business it would be well for you to have the counsel and assistance of a good advertising agency. A list of these will be furnished, without cost or obligation, by the Secretary of Canadian Press Association, Room 503, Lumsden Building, Toronto.
