CHILDREN'S CONCERT AT PORT ESSINGTON

The children of Port Essington Indian day school gave a most delightful entertainment in the Methodist Church there on the evening of December 26th. Rev.
W. F. Rushbrook presided over a large attendance and the children submitted a program of over thirty items, including motion songs, choruses and recitations.
The children rendered the various pieces with marked earnestness and ability. There was the usual Christmas tree, each child receiving a gift from Santa Claus. During the intermission, a collection was taken up in aid of the Belgian Relief Fund, which realized the sum of $20. The gathering closed with the singing of "O Canada" and "God Save the King." Thirty-one children took part in the program and their work reflected the greatest credit upon their teachers, while it also displayed a high degree of intelligence in the scholars.

MILLIONS WILL BE PAID TO TRAPPERS AND TRADERS

Furs are extremely fashionable and a woman's wardrobe is not complete without one or more sets of furs. Even in mild climates, there are larger quantities of fur overcoats being sold to gentlemen.

The present prices of American raw furs as compared with the prices of a few years ago, make pleasant reading for the old trapper and fur collector, but to the tenderfoot in the fur game it seems like an impossible story, and if the "old timers" didn't know the facts to be true, they would say, "Tell it to the marines," says Mr. A. B. Shubert, president of A. B. Shubert, Inc., Chicago, the largest house in the world dealing exclusively in American raw furs. Why it was only a few years ago that one could buy all the muskrats in western Canada at 6 cents apiece, and they sold as low as 4 cents.
Winter and spring collections last season brought 40 cents to 50 cents. The entire collection of northwestern skunk could be bought at $1.00 to $1.50 for No.
1 large prime black. Now they sell at $5.00 to $6.00. The best lynx sold in C. M. Lampson & Co.'s sale in London, England, at $3.50. Last season $12.00 to $15.00 was paid for them. Marten that are now worth $6.00 sold for $2.00. The best dark fisher that North America ever produced could be bought for $10.00. Last season $50.00 was paid for the large dark skins. The best collection of red fox was sold for $2.00 average. Today the same collection of red fox would bring $8.00 to $10.00. White weasel we paid nothing for because there was no market for them. Today they bring 75 cents to $1.50.

Otter, one could buy the best the earth produced at $5.00 and $6.00.
Today we pay $20.00 to $30 inland caught skins. Would you think it possible to buy the best silver fox that was ever trapped for $85.00? That was the price.
It takes a small fortune to buy it now. The cause of this tremendous advance in the value of North American raw furs is the keen competition created by the well known Circular Houses. One would think that this wonderful advance in value would drive the consumer of furs out of the market and prohibit the sale of manufactured goods, but with North America prosperous and furs so extremely fashionable, it will be some time before we will see lower prices and during this winter many fur-bearers will bring advanced prices over last season.
