AIR IS SAFEST PLACE FOR SOLDIER IN WAR

Is an aeroplane the safest place for a soldier in war? The question would appear to be answered in the affirmative in view of the following facts:

It was reported some time ago that an officer of the Royal Flying Corps had applied to be allowed to rejoin his regiment in his former capacity. When inquiry was made as to his reasons he replied that he could not bear to see his brother officers running all the risks of the trenches while he himself was in safety flying in the air above them.

When the Royal Flying Corps was organized in 1912, it was estimated that in case of war the entire personnel would have to be renewed every six months—that that period would represent the average life of an airman in active service. In the first five months of the present war, however, during which the corps was almost continuously engaged in scouting and raiding expeditions, the total loss was six airmen killed by the enemy, five killed accidentally, five wounded, and five missing or prisoners, a total disablement of less than three per cent of the airmen on active service.

While no exact figures, either of losses or of the number of troops engaged in the field, have been made public by any of the powers engaged in the war, it is certain that the percentage of losses in land fighting, both of officers and men, has been very much larger than this in each of the armies.—Exchange.

CARAVANS SUPPLY SOLDIERS WITH BATHS

Two new bath caravans for the Belgian army, the gift of the Wounded Allies' Relief Committee, were recently inspected by the King and Queen in London. What a luxury a hot bath is to the fighting man in the trenches can well be imagined, and the new caravans will supply a real want. It is reckoned that each caravan will supply baths continuously for perhaps fourteen hours, in which case the two vehicles will be able to deal with about 1,600 men in the time stated. Each van carries twelve light steel baths, 5ft., 3in. long by 2ft., 2in. wide, nested one inside the other. Along the whole length of the van, on both sides, are fixed roller-controlled water-proof sheetings for forming tents and thus ensuring privacy. Each tent houses six baths, the water for which will be heated by petroleum.

These novel bathing machines will be drawn by horses from place to place, wherever water can be obtained from rivers and streams, and it will be possible to take them quite near the trenches.—Exchange.

Internal Bathing's Rapid Growth

It is not natural to expect that a relief from Constipation and the many ills which it causes, which is so effectual and so quickly made many converts.

But its general use has increased so tremendously in the past few years as to suggest other reasons, and these are found in the statement of users that they feel as if "made over new" the morning after an Internal Bath.

The elimination of the pernicious and poisonous waste which is ever present in the Lower Intestine gives Nature a chance to work unhampered. And one arises in the morning clear-headed, able, bright, confident and eager for the day's duties.

Mr. F. E. Smith writes:—"Dear Doctor,—Your 'Cascade' made a new man of me at the age of 49. I persuaded my wife to use the treatment also, and today she has better health than ever before. Since the use of the 'Cascade' she sleeps better and can walk for hours without fatigue. Fainting spells have become a condition of the past; can eat anything on the bill of fare and drink all beverages. Does not take cold when exposed; hot weather does not cause oppression."

The "J. B. L. Cascade," the most efficient device for Internal Bathing, is being shown and explained in detail by Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th Street, Prince Rupert.
