TURK ATROCITIES

Reuter's Agency learns that information, received in authoritative quarters in London, shows that the Turks are carrying out a deliberate policy of destruction of Arabs, having apparently for its object their extermination, as in the case of the Armenians.

In pursuance of this object, they surrounded the whole region of Lebanon with a military cordon, thus preventing any food getting through, with the result that about half the Christians and Druse Arabs in that zone have died of starvation. They have devastated Syria and Palestine. On the pretext of getting fuel, olive trees and orange gardens have been ruined.

They have deported large numbers of the most illustrious Arab families, and have hanged on the flimsiest pretext all Arab leaders on whom they could lay their hands, no matter whether they were pro or anti Turk.

In the matter of the agricultural population they have pressed them more heavily with conscription than any other section of the Turkish people, and have exposed them on all the worst fronts. Such individuals as have been left behind have been infected by typhus by deliberately sending into the villages typhus-stricken Armenians to act as carriers of disease. Fortunately, however, Arab vitality is very strong.

The Turks are trying to do away with the Arabic language, and also to eliminate Arabic from the Mohammedan religion by introducing non-Arabic prayers.

Mr. David Strang, late of the provincial government office here, left last night for the southern route to Australia.
