

"I FEEL LIKE A NEW BEING"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought The Joy Of Health After Two Years' Suffering

MADAM LAPLANTE

35 St. Rose St., Montreal, April 4th.
"For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant headaches, and had palpitation of the heart so badly that I feared I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the constipation was dreadful. I suffered from Pain in the Back and Kidney Disease."

I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried "Fruit-a-tives" as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no headaches, no palpitation, no heart trouble, no constipation, no pain or kidney trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was "Fruit-a-tives" that gave me back my health."

THE COMING CAMPAIGN THROUGH GERMAN EYES

The latest leading article of the Frankfurter Zeitung, as quoted in the London Times, on the military situation shows that the German public is being gradually prepared to face the campaign of 1917 from somewhat new points of view.

The argument starts from the idea that Germany and her allies have now succeeded in "unifying land war and sea war." Great stress is laid upon the assertion that the military authorities deprecated the beginning of the submarine campaign last autumn and that they waited until Hindenburg was ready "to envisage new strategic aims," and until "it was possible to wage land war and sea war in unity against the western powers and to rise to the highest possible level of effectiveness." Then the submarine war began and then began also "the decisive fight in the west."

The public is now told that it is a great mistake to regard the submarine war as aimed only at Britain; it is aimed at the whole entente.
The Frankfurter Zeitung writes "If our work (the submarine campaign) succeeds it would suffice for our armies firmly and strongly to prevent the enemy from invading our country—our own country and the area which we hold in pawn. It would suffice if Hindenburg, with the art of which he is master, were, with the smallest possible expenditure of strength and blood, to overthrow the last great attack of our enemies. But our enemies fear considerably more. There is no entente front which does not regard itself as the specially chosen goal of Hindenburg's aggressiveness. Even in the third spring of the war, they hold us capable of the highest things."

The "Brilliant" Retreat.
The Frankfurter Zeitung then bravely fits into this picture the apparently contradictory German retreat in the west. It says, "Like lightning from a clear sky the German change of front on the Aene has burst in upon these considerations. It is a riddle and it is also an extremely painful surprise. What the final purpose and meaning of this matter may be is entirely in the dark. But two things are already certain—first that we are here faced by a very clever and effective move, by an idea which is perhaps quite simple, but precisely for that reason is brilliant; and secondly, that the carrying out of that idea was splendid."

"We understand the satisfaction of our soldiers at the front, we rejoice with them at the success of the stroke, and we are proud of our troops and their leaders. The campaign of 1917 has made a good beginning. There has been no great battle and no victory, but side by side with the submarine war, there has been a movement on the English front for which we have no name, but which enables us to begin the decisive months with the established fact that there are surprises both on water and on land."

The arrival of copies of the Frankfurter Zeitung dated today will be awaited with interest if for no other reason than just to see what degree of surprise is evinced at the smashing of the long-vaunted Hindenburg line.

Not a Checkerboard—Just a Coat.

After a night at chequers, and only a few hours sleep, if this vision passes before you, you would no doubt think you had them. The coat is of large black and white checks trimmed with plush and it is the new "barrel silhouette"—some coat.

Bathe Internally and Keep Well!

Nature has mightily equipped us all, old and young, to resist disease—but she requires that we give her a chance.

We give her no chance if we permit the Lower Intestine to be more or less clogged with accumulated waste. Yet that is a universal condition today, as is proven by the number of laxative drugs that are consumed.

You can help Nature in Nature's most effectual way by Internal Bathing, and in an easy, non-habit-forming way keep the Intestine as sweet and clean as Nature demands it to be for perfect health and swifter defence against contagion. Over half a million keen, bright, healthy people testify to its result.

Mrs. C. G. M. (name on request) of Strathroy, Ont., writes:—

"I am pleased to have this opportunity of testifying to the merits of the J. B. L. Cascade. I have been using it now for a year with satisfactory results. I am an old woman, but my health is so improved that I have a renewed lease of life. You are at liberty to give my address to anyone privately who may desire to write to me regarding the Cascade."

Just call on Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th Street, Prince Rupert, and request free booklet, "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient." The most efficient device for Internal Bathing, The "J. B. L. Cascade" will also be shown and explained to you if you so desire. If you prefer, write for Booklet to Dr. Chas. A. Tyrell, 163 College Street, Toronto.

In the Highest Degree Profitable

Some men figure that as the mercury climbs up sales will fall down. And figuring that way, fate is kind and does not disappoint them.

So there has grown up a commercial superstition that Summer is a dull season.

No greater fallacy has ever gone so long unchallenged.

Summer is a dull season for many lines—but there is no fundamental reason why it should be.

For instance, take a typical case—that of the Canadian wallpaper manufacturers.

They wished to secure their placing orders from the retailers before the early Fall—when American lines are offered. Through education by Advertising, they advanced the season to start the middle of June, instead of the end of August, and they now beat their foreign competitors to the market by nearly three months.

Perhaps you face a selling problem that education by Advertising will solve. Perhaps your Summer business needs the tonic of Summer Advertising.

As the mercury climbs up to its highest degree, increase, rather than slacken, your Advertising and selling efforts. You will find it profitable—in the highest degree.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
