WESTHOLME THEATRE

There will again be shown to-night at the Westholme that great photoplay "Madam X" by Alexander Bisson. This is a very powerful play and the interest of the audience was sustained last night from start to finish. Dorothy Donnelly, the star artiste certainly in this film has proved her capabilities as an actress, and she is supported by a splendid cast. The culmination of the plot, where the cast off wife, defended by her lawyer son, in ignorance of her identity, results when she is acquitted, and the tragic scene that follows is most poignant, and full of pathos.

Those who missed this wonderful play yesterday ought on no account to miss it tonight.

FOOD CONTROLLER
GETS AFTER THE DEER

During this time of food scarcity in Great Britain, the food controller has got the owners of the numerous deer forests together to make arrangements for the hunting of deer for food. A venison supply committee was formed last year and this incoming season they will have their operations extended in practically every deer forest in Scotland.

Locheil, the Mackintosh of Mackintosh, and many another bearer of a famous name are getting everything arranged for the prompt transportation of the carcasses to the market. As the deer can only be killed for food during a limited period, the number to be required for the twelve months must be secured then.

It is proposed to erect a cold storage plant, salting and sausage factories in Inverness, and all details have been gone into regarding ghillies, ponies and motors to get the venison from the depths of the forests to railhead. It is proposed that officers on leave, officers on sick leave after convalescence, and those who have been rendering good service to their country in other capacities, shall be employed in stalking.
