To Go On Taking "Fruit-a-tives"
Because They Did Her Good

Rochon, P. Q., Jan. 14th, 1915.
"I suffered for many years with terrible indigestion and Constipation. I had frequent dizzy spells and became greatly run down. A neighbor advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. I did so and to the surprise of my doctor, I began to improve, and he advised me to go on with 'Fruit-a-tives'."

"I consider that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives' and I want to say to those who suffer from Indigestion, Constipation or Headaches—try Fruit-a-tives and you will get well." CORINE GAUDREAU.

JUNKER LEADER PRESENTS TERMS

The Hague, May 1.—The German Cabinet is facing the most difficult situation of its wartime existence in its effort to find a safe middle ground between the Socialists and the Conservatives. Both parties are becoming more and more insistent and vociferous, the Socialists demanding the democratization of the Government and peace without conquest or indemnity, while the Conservatives are demanding with equal urgency, reforms in exactly the opposite direction.

Dr. Diederich Hahn, leader of the Agrarian Junker party, and member of the Reichstag, delivered a speech in Berlin in which he declared that Germany's submarine success now insured the unconditional surrender of her enemies. He attacked the demands of the Socialists, and censured the Government for continuing so long to maintain diplomatic relations with the United States.

"Has monarchical Germany failed?" he asked. "No," he added, "it stands brilliantly before the world as a conqueror. We are today within sight of peace. May it be a real German peace. Let us keep to Bismarck's policy. Germany's future is a future of battle and conquest."

"Some people are demanding a new order of things in Germany. Let me tell you what new order we Conservatives desire. Germany's industrial and agricultural future must be so ordered that she will be in a position successfully to withstand any future attacks. We must have the coal fields of Longwy and Briey. We must have fresh territory for emigration in the east. We must not return any lands we have conquered. That would be an unforgivable sin against our agricultural population, would compromise our industrial development, and would mean that our blood had been spilled in vain."

"Already we have foolishly bestowed a kingdom upon Poland without securing Germany's rights therein."

AERIAL TRANSPORT AFTER THE WAR

London, May 2.—The announcement was made in the House of Commons by Major J. L. Baird, representative in the House of the Aerial Advisory Board, that the Government had decided to appoint a committee under the chairmanship of Lord Northcliffe to investigate civil aerial transport after the war.

This, he said, would permit of the employment of the large number of skilled pilots and the airplanes in the hands of the army and navy, as well as of the still vaster number of machines, the construction of which is under way or planned.

Major Baird said the committee would consider and report on steps to be taken after the war, of aviation for civil and commercial purposes, from domestic, Imperial and international points of view and the extent to which it will be possible to utilize the trained personnel and the aircraft which at the conclusion of peace would be available.

Empire Unity With Autonomy.

We know well that, despite the rude awakening of 1914, it is still true that statesmanship must walk warily. With so vast a diversity of State interests, of local and racial characteristics, of conditions of political development in general, as the British Empire presents, nothing approaching to the more or less closely-welded federations now existing in the world is likely ever to be achieved. It is as true today as it was when Lord Rosebery said it in Melbourne thirty years ago that the maintenance and the strengthening of the Imperial bond is conditional upon the various parts of the Empire being preserved.—London Daily Telegraph.

Keep Chickens

This is National Service

The cost of meat is the heavy item in the food bill.

Poultry and Eggs will help take the place of meat.

The food that goes to the garbage pail from the average table will provide one-third the feed for a flock of 8 to 10 hens.

Poultry will thrive where vegetables will not grow. The outlay is small. A few minutes a day is all the time required.

A small flock in your back yard will go far to keep you supplied with eggs, broilers and roasters.

Keep you

How to go about it

BUY eggs for hatching or day-old chicks; borrow or buy a broody hen or an artificial brooder. A slatted packing-box will house the hen and chicks. Feed the chicks bread crumbs soaked in milk and squeezed dry. Feed five times a day, alternating with prepared chick feed, only as much as they will eat up clean. Remember that a hungry chick is a healthy chick.

CAUTION: Chicks must not be fed until at least 48 hours old, and then only sparingly.

If you can, start now with eggs or chicks; if not, arrange at once with the local poultry association for pullets in the fall.
