WESTHOLME THEATRE

At the Westholme Theatre tonight, a photoplay adapted from Dickens' great novel "Oliver Twist," will be screened. Oliver, the little boy, who asked for more, has now become a national character, and known the world over. Little Oliver has always been a lovable character, and in addition, this book has given other two a world-wide reputation also. There are Bill Sikes and the Artful Dodger. The star actors are of no mean order, and a very fine entertainment should be had tonight. In addition, a Pathe Gazette will be displayed, showing the latest world events of interest. The orchestra have also arranged a splendid programme.

CABARET AND GEISHA TEA EXTRAORDINARY

The second and last day of the Cabaret and Geisha Tea arranged by Mrs. Frizzell came to a reluctant close last night. From the beginning to the end, it has been an overbrimming success in every way, and Mrs. Frizzell is deserving of much congratulation for her originality, her management, and for the satisfaction of her visitors. For the financial success on this occasion the Patriotic Fund and the Red Cross officials will have even greater reasons to add their quota in her praise. In her choice of assistants, Mrs. Frizzell also displayed her executive ability, for she certainly had good ones.

The attractions yesterday afternoon were whist, music and tea. The stalls carried many articles for sale, and the decorations were exceptional; the overhead display of almond blossoms being most effective. Visitors were plentiful, but in the evening the large room was filled to capacity. The Westholme orchestra were all there, and when dancing was in progress it was a very animated scene.

From an aesthetic viewpoint, seldom indeed has a public function here attained higher excellence. The numerous dainty Geisha costumes of the ladies were reminiscent of the D'Oyly Carte opera. Yum Yum was there, and Pitti Sing, and Mr. George Frizzell would have filled the role of Pooh Bah delightfully. As Master of Ceremonies—or Lord High Executioner—his duties were executed famously. The dancing was delightful to witness and all too soon came to an end after midnight. The gross amount realized for the two days was $1,004.75, and the net proceeds will be divided between the Patriotic Fund and the Red Cross Society.

The LUX way to wash Blankets

STIR LUX flakes into hot water, allowing three tablespoonful to each gallon of water. When the water has cooled sufficiently, put in the blankets and move them gently about, dipping them up and down with the hands. Rinse in three relays of hot water—squeeze some of the water out carefully and hang to dry. Result: Snowy, fleecy blankets.

WOOLLENS are getting dearer and dearer. Wash them right, though, and you give them years of life. Never twist or wring them—the wool fibres become hard, thick and brittle. Just stir your woollens about in tepid water after dissolving the LUX flakes in hot water. Use —pure essence of soap in flakes—and you'll be delighted at the fresh, fleecy, clean, NEW feeling your woollens take on. LUX can't harm anything that pure water may touch.

LUX

Sold by all good grocers, and British-made by
