AIR RAID ON SOUTHERN ENGLISH COUNTIES

HUNDREDS OF INNOCENT WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE VICTIMS OF THE HUNS

GERMANS MAKE AIR RAIDS ON S. E. COUNTIES

Sixteen Enemy Air Raiders Drop Bombs Over the English Coast—Two Hundred Casualties.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, May 28.—Sixteen German air raiders arrived over the southeastern counties of England and showered bombs promiscuously over the country side. Altogether seventy-six persons have been killed and one hundred and seventy-four injured. The victims have mostly been women and children. Three of the enemy aeroplanes were brought down by the anti-aircraft high angle guns. The invading squadrons of the enemy aeroplanes were evidently on the look-out for places of military importance, but dropped many bombs apparently on chance as many fell into vacant areas and fields in the country districts. Unfortunately, several fell in the populated areas. The damage to property was considerable, but full details are still lacking.

REORGANIZATION OF THE BORDEN CABINET

(Special to The Daily News.)
Ottawa, May 28.—There will likely be big surprises when the present Borden Cabinet is re-organized. Many changes are expected to take place in the ministry within a week's time. The whole matter is in the hands of Premier Borden and no indications have been given as to the intentions of the Premier.

Prominent business men, or representatives of a wing of the Liberal party may be asked to join the Administration. It is rumored that Sir Clifford Sifton is likely to take a portfolio.

"HINDENBURG PEACE" IS GERMANY'S LATEST

Amsterdam, May 26.—A "Hindenburg peace" movement, demanding that Germany retain the "Briey and Longwy iron districts, Antwerp, the Belgian coast and the Belgian coal mines," is afoot in Germany. Copies of the Cologne Roman Catholic organ Volks Zeitung received here today featured the plan, urging signatures of the people to such a recommendation to the Government. The newspaper's form for signatures declares the Germans are opposed to "wars of conquest and policies of annexation," but it is not clear how this is reconciled with the demand for retention of the French and Belgian territory specified.

Plotting Away.

London, May 26.—Germany is actively plotting peace again after a lull consequent upon the failure of the first attempt to coax Russia into a separate compact.

The Teutonic efforts to bring about the end of the war on Germany's own terms were revealed in dispatches received today from half a dozen European cities. Coming at a time when Premier Ribot's firm and unyielding statement of France's aims in the war were prominently displayed here, as well as Russia's pledge to the United States, there seems scant likelihood of any headway in the German move.

Premier Ribot's speech in the Chamber of Deputies is approved here as epitomizing the aims of the Entente and clearing up, for Russia's benefit, some of the questions involved in the "no annexations and no indemnities" phase. M. Ribot made it clear that the restoration to France of Alsace and Lorraine was not "annexation," and that there was a sharp difference between "reparation" which Germany must make for her wanton destruction in France and Belgium and "indemnities."

BLOWING BOCHE TRENCHES TO BITS

Auberive and its powerful defences fell before the Allied attacks, preceded by an overwhelming artillery preparation, which smashed the enemy's line of defence to atoms, and inflicted severe casualties upon his forces. This wonderful photo was taken from an aeroplane and shows French shells bursting on the Boche trenches before the village, which is partially obscured by smoke.

WILL NOT RESPECT THE RED CROSS FLAG

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, May 28.—Germany has announced that hereafter she will not respect the Red Cross flag, and will regard all hospital ships as war vessels. These will be sunk on sight, if opportunity permits. Transportation of the sick from Kalamata and Salonika to Gibraltar may be allowed safe passage only if the name of the vessel, her speed and the time of departure is notified to Germany six weeks in advance.

FLYING CORPS IS ESTABLISHED IN B. C.

Five hundred skilled and unskilled mechanics are wanted at once for service in the Royal Flying Corps, aerodromes to be established in British Columbia. A recruiting office has been opened at Victoria and has been thronged with applicants since its first day of business.

Sites have been secured at Boundary Bay, near Ladner, and at Lulu Island, where the land is already being cleared and being sown under grass preparatory to the erection of aerodromes and other necessary buildings. It has also been stated that the whole of Minoru Park in Vancouver has also been taken over by the Imperial authorities for aviation purposes.

It is expected that fifty machines will soon arrive on the coast from Toronto for instructional purposes, so that the British Columbia stations will be fully equipped. Pilots are still in demand, and in view of the fine reputation won by British Columbia airmen in France, it is expected that a large number will be enrolled.

ALLEGES GERMAN SUBS GET SUPPLIES FROM SPAIN

(Special to The Daily News.)
Paris, May 28.—The Hun submarines get oil in Spanish waters. A French Deputy, criticising the Marine Department, says that the German divers are getting help from Spain, and that they have their regular bases in Spanish waters, which are kept supplied from Spanish territory.

ON THE STILL RISING COST OF LIVING

Ottawa.—The Borden Government's campaign for thrift has reached the stage where it is deemed safer to turn it over to the provinces. The provinces are getting busy. Boards of Trade are passing resolutions. Public meetings are being held. Business men from the cities declare their intention of making a passionate pilgrimage of three weeks to the country to help the farmer with his seeding and his harvest. Increased production is the word. Everything is to be speeded up. In view of these patriotic activities it was deemed advisable to interview, not the farmers, but the denizens of the farm, the hen, the cow, the hog, the horse, the apple, the potato, the wheat, who will be chiefly affected by the speeding up process. The interviews follow:

The Hen—Yes, I am willing to do my bit, but I want my efforts recognized. A career of persistent parturience, such as mine, is very trying on the nervous system and should have definite compensations. If I am asked to lay eggs by electric light, after my day's work is over, I want the people of Canada and the British Empire to get the benefit. I don't want to spend all my time laying eggs for half a dozen cold storage kings who hide them away in summer and dole them out in winter at anything from seventy cents to a dollar a dozen.

I can lay eggs, labor, food, and wear and tear included, quite profitably at twenty-five cents a dozen, and that is the price I would like to see fixed for the people at large. I know that is the price the cold storage kings buy my product at and I don't see why the people should get worse treatment. It's all very well to say that the people have as good a chance at my eggs as the cold storage kings, but they haven't. It is a notorious grievance that every little general store in the country acts as agent and collector for the cold storage fellows and that three-fifths of the summer-laid eggs do not see the market until months later. I often wonder why the government does not invoke the War Measures Act and make these cold storage pirates behave.

The Cow—What's the use? I drink all the water and make all the milk I can, and what they can't can they give to the pigs, but I don't get any credit. All I get is knocks. The smart alecks say that I am first cousin to the pump. It's not my fault. It's what the dairy companies do to the milk when it goes to the city. As it leaves my bosom it is pure as the driven snow, but I won't answer for it after the middlemen get hold of it.

Butter? What can I do about it? I try my best and turn out a good product, but I am not responsible for the price. The middleman fixes that. Forty cents a pound—pretty stiff. A little competition from oleomargarine would bring butter to reason, but you can hardly expect relief like that from the Borden Government which, I understand, is addicted to high tariff. Domestic cheese, I am told, brings the same price now as the imported varieties. That seems a good way to encourage the use of the imported varieties. I suppose the Borden Government aims to swell the customs revenue. Of course the consumer gets the worst of it. That's what he was made for. I'm afraid he'll go dry if he looks for the milk of human kindness in the Borden Government. They're (Continued on page three.)

THE ITALIAN OFFENSIVE CONTINUES

Austrians Again Pushed Further Back, and Italians Nearer Trieste—Comparative Quiet in West.

(Special to The Daily News.)
London, May 28.—The Brilliant offensive commenced by General Cadorna two weeks ago continues victorious day by day. The Italian line is now projected farther down the Carso Plateau in the direction of Trieste and further progress was made yesterday. The total captures made by the Italians in this offensive beginning on the fourteenth of May now total 22,419 men. In the Plava section, the Austrians have been again pushed further back and are apparently demoralized.

French Front.

Paris, May 28.—Further progress is announced on the Champagne front. Two German counter attacks were repulsed. These attacks were made against the French salients to the east and west of Cerny and the German troops suffered great losses.

British Front.

London, May 28.—Increased activity is being displayed by the German artillery against the British sector of the Arras battle front from the Scarpe river south to Croiselles. Raids are frequent on both sides.

FIRE AT SEAL COVE BURNS SINCE SATURDAY

A little after 12 noon on Saturday, the fire department received a call from Seal Cove, and on arriving there found that the heap of waste from the old sawmill had caught fire and was burning furiously. This heap, or small hill of waste consisted of sawdust, slabs and the general refuse of a sawmill and has been lying there for years since over the old sawmill stopped operating. How the fire was caused remains unknown and is a matter of conjecture. It is supposed that it had been burning slowly for some time before it became noticeable.

Although the nearest hydrants were some distance away, the fire department soon had the blaze under control, and have been working at it ever since. It is expected that it will be some time yet before it finally burns itself out. The affair is well in hand and there is no danger of a further outbreak.

Yesterday, there were two other calls on the department. The roof of Mr. A. Frebourg's house on Eighth Avenue took fire supposedly through an over heated flue, and the roof was badly damaged. There was also a brush fire at the corner of Seventh and Lotbiniere, which was quickly got under. Altogether the department have had a fairly busy time. Minor accidents happened to two of the firemen. Harry Hooper got his hand rather badly cut, and Jim Neville received some nasty bruises, but otherwise the department maintained its superiority over the enemy.
