PLAN TO RESTORE WAR RUINED CITIES

It was learned at Washington last week that Ambassador Jesserand has forwarded to the French and Belgian Governments a unique offer on the part of United States students to aid in rebuilding as rapidly as the Germans are driven back.

The plan is to send city-beautiful units of architects and engineers to Europe to reconstruct the ruined municipalities along model lines, in order that the war zone in France and Belgium may emerge as one of the most beautiful regions on earth.

Dr. Edmund James, President of the University of Illinois, brought the offer to Ambassador Jesserand. The University at Urbana-Champaign, on July 1, will open a special city-planning school, in order to train professional men for service in these units.

Each unit, Dr. James explained, will consist of an architect, a landscape architect, an electrical engineer, a highway civil engineer, a municipal and sanitary engineer, a chemical engineer, and an economist. The training school which will combine special courses of the university's school of architecture and its various engineering schools, will teach the co-operation necessary to make the building units effective. The course will last six months, at the end of which time it is hoped to send the first units abroad.
