GENERAL NEWS ITEMS

(Special to The Daily News.) Great Britain requires every ounce of American export food.

Lord Northcliffe succeeds the Hon. A. J. Balfour as head of the mission in the United States.

The military governor of Anhwei, in the revolted provinces of China says that after a parliament has been elected, China will declare war on Germany.

WESTHOLME THEATRE

At the Westholme Theatre tonight, there will be shown a great play entitled "Sporting Blood." The plot concerns itself with the revenge of two persons on a man who had tried to ruin them, but in the background of the film, broader than the mere interest in persons, a fuller view of the gambling instinct of humanity is taken. All the excitement of the race track runs through this photoplay and the incidents given are largely taken from actual experience. A horse race in itself is a beautiful thing to witness, and this play will commend itself to those who see it.

There will also be displayed pictures of the city of Ghent, that old world town in East Flanders, which is now in the hands of the Germans. The wonderful architecture of its buildings, which are among the most beautiful in Europe, and its quaint old streets touch the imagination. The botanic gardens of this town are wonderfully beautiful, and from an educational and aesthetic point of view, these pictures excel.
