

"I FEEL LIKE A NEW BEING"

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Brought The Joy Of Health After Two Years' Suffering

MADAM LAPLANTE

35 St. Rose St., Montreal, April 4th. For over two years I was sick and miserable. I suffered from constant headaches, and had palpitation of the heart so badly that I feared I would die. There seemed to be a lump in my stomach and the constipation was dreadful. I suffered from Pain in the Back and Kidney Disease.

I was treated by a physician for a year and a half and he did me no good at all. I tried "Fruit-a-tives" as a last resort. After using three boxes, I was greatly improved and twelve boxes made me well. Now I can work all day and there are no Headaches, no Palpitation, no Heart Trouble, no Constipation, no Pain or Kidney Trouble and I feel like a new being—and it was "Fruit-a-tives" that gave me back my health!

An Army of Internal Bathers

Over half a million bright, keen, up-to-date Canadians and Americans have found that Internal Bathing is more essential to their well-being than External Baths. Have found that, taken occasionally at night, they feel like different people the next morning. No more of that bilious, tired, nervous condition—but, having by Nature's own cleanser, antiseptic warm water, removed all the poisonous waste from the Lower Intestine, they awake thoroughly refreshed by normal sleep, with all their functions acting in healthy accord, bright, happy, clear-headed and confident, eager and capable for the duties of the day.

Copper Cliff, Ont., March 2, 1916. Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, Toronto, Ont.

Dear Doctor,—I have been using your "J. B. L. Cascade" for the past three months, and am convinced that it is the most modern and scientific method of cleansing with constipation that has ever been devised, and I will lose no opportunity to promote its use among my friends, as I can speak truthfully and enthusiastically as to its merits.

Yours very truly, J. A. Darrach, Wholesale and Retail Men's Wear. Why not learn more about this rapidly-growing and natural practice? The "J. B. L. Cascade", the original and best appliance for this purpose, manufactured by Charles A. Tyrrell, M.D., is now being shown and explained by Cyril H. Orme, Druggist, corner 3rd Ave. and 6th Street. There also may be obtained free on request, "Why Man of Today is Only 50 Per Cent. Efficient," a most interesting booklet on the subject. If you prefer, write to Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, 163 College Street, Toronto, for same.

WILL THE GOVERNMENT FORCE AN EXTENSION?

Crothers does, to work more and eat less—but when it comes to giving itself another year of the spoils of office it makes no bones of using all the means at its disposal.

A year may not be enough. The war may last longer than that. The Toronto News naively suggests that the Borden Government be continued in office for the duration of the war and six months after. If this should be a thirty years' war—and Germany has had that kind before—the Borden Government, or such members of it as had escaped the tooth of time, would still be in power in 1947, and Sir Thomas White, who is now the baby of the Cabinet, aged fifty, would be a veteran of eighty. Sir George Foster would be just turning a hundred.

The Borden Government at the present minute is handling something more than a million dollars a day, and naturally it doesn't want to let go while so much money is passing through its hands. Its past actions would go to show that it does not bother much about the good of the people, but it does worry about the interests of its profiteering friends. It feels that it would be recreant to its trust—I beg pardon, its trusts—the country is full of 'em—if it quit now. There are several millions of dollars in the crisis yet. If the wicked Grits came in they might appoint a food dictator and stop the looting. If the Extension Bill goes all the way—which it may not—it will be because the friends of the Borden Government tell it not to desert its post while there is a cent in it for them.

An Extension Act, carried by brute force through the Canadian Parliament, and ratified by the Curzon-Milner-Carson crowd at Westminster, would be thoroughly in line with what the people have come to expect of the Borden Government. It is true that, by this method, any Government, once in power, could keep itself there indefinitely by renewing its majority from time to time in the Senate and holding no by-elections when the seats in the Commons fell vacant, yet it would be against the constitution and against the spirit of Home Rule just the same. This Home Rule of ours we have won with wounds and blood. The Tories on both sides of the ocean should be careful how they conspire to take it away from us.

It is only fair to say that many members of the Conservative party are opposed to this infringement on responsible government. The Borden Government does not flatter the people of Canada when it says, "You are feverish and hysterical. Your judgment is not to be trusted. We are the only cool-headed people in Canada. Consequently we will not give you an election." The Borden Government, I repeat, does not flatter the people when it says that, but the chances are that it may say so, and if it wants to put the thing over it has the majority with which to do it.

Of course moderate Conservatives all over the country are pointing out that the Government can't throw Home Rule and Responsible Government into the discard that way without doing irreparable harm to the Conservative party in the esteem of the people. But these counsels are outside the House. The Conservative members in the House of Commons are pretty well agreed on an extension if the Government wants it. They know that they want it themselves. They say it will help to win the war to keep them in a year longer. What they mean is that it will keep them in a year longer whether it helps to win the war or not. Many of them feel that when their own fight comes off at the next general election they are not going to win it. Consequently they shudder at the thought of a war-time election. And they have reason. One might almost venture to state that the shuddering is confined to these timid persons. They seek by their shudders to create a shuddering atmosphere. They shudder and they want the rest of us to join in. Human nature is pretty much the same the world over and there is reason to suppose that, if a war-time election is in the best interests of the country, Canada will do no more shuddering about it than Australia did.

Nobody knows just what Parliament will do with the extension proposals, but it goes without saying that the question will be thoroughly discussed. Some talk there is about an onus. If there is such a thing as an onus for a general election it would be a fair statement of the case to say that both political parties share it with the British North America Act which provides that there shall be a federal election at least once every five years.

I have heard Conservatives—outside the House of Commons, of course—express a wish for a general election anyway. They put it on this ground. A Government that is trembling on the brink of an election does nothing for fear of offending this or that body of electors. The Government that comes in with five years of life ahead of it can carry out a vigorous policy.—H. F. Gadsby.

This applies equally well to nearly all baked foods. Try the following recipe according to the new way:

1 teaspoon flavoring

New Way

1 cup sugar
1 cup milk
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Dr. Price's Baking Powder
1 EGG
2 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon flavoring

Makes 1 Large 2-Layer Cake

DIRECTIONS—Cream the sugar and shortening together, then mix in the egg. After sifting the flour and Dr. Price's Baking Powder together, two or three times, add it all to the mixture. Gradually add the milk and beat with spoon until you have a smooth pour batter. Add the flavoring. Pour into greased layer cake tins and bake in a moderately hot oven for twenty minutes.
